Budget Okayed... Taxes Going Up

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

Crossing political lines, members of the Ulster County Legislature Monday night approved the county's $29 million, 1972 budget by a vote of 18-11 and today property owners are getting the bad news concerning tax increases which are up as much as 40 per cent in some areas although the total amount of taxes to be raised by real property tax levy increased about 30 per cent.

Four legislators were absent due to illness.

Those voting for the budget included the following: 17 Republicans and one Democrat: Louis Bevier (R-Dist. 8), Ralph Brach (R-Dist. 9), Eugene Corey (R-Dist. 9), Lawrence Craft (R-Dist. 10) Philip Davis (R-Dist. 11), Lester C. Elmendorf (R-Dist. 2), Ernest John Gardner (R-Dist. 11), Lewis Hall, (R-Dist. 2) S. Robert Kelder (R-Dist. 2), Melvin Mones (R-City), Frank Muller (R-Dist. 10), Richard Nace (R-Dist. 2), Eugene Noe (R-Dist. 9), James Palen, (R-Dist. 9), John C. Sangaline (R-City), Peter J. Savago, chairman (R-Dist. 8), Clifford Snyder (R-Dist. 1) and Richard Thornton, (D-Dist. 1).

The budget was turned down by six Democrats and five Republicans including both the majority and minority leaders.

Majority Leader Douglas V. Dye (R-Dist. 2) said he did not think the people could afford it and that many items in the budget should be reviewed.

Minority Leader Roger Mabie (D-Dist. 7) also turned it down because it did not include funds for the county's $17,500 share of the Community Action Committee's program.

Others voting against the budget were: Paul Brazier (D-Dist. 1), Glenn Debrosky (R-Dist. 7), Andrew T. Gilday (D-City), James Gilpatric, (D-City), Gerald P. Gorman (D-City), Lewis Kirschner, (D-Dist. 7), Charles Scala (R-Dist. 1), William R. West (R-Dist. 12) and Brian R. White (R-Dist. 9).

The total appropriation is $29,547,065, less inter-fund appropriations of $2,961,925 leaving a total budget of $26,585,140. Anticipated revenues amount to $15,621,418 and fund balances are $2,300,000. The total to be raised by real estate tax levy is now $8,663,722, an increase of $2,415,838 over 1971.

Prior to its adoption, certain changes in the budget were made, including the deletion of the Community Action budget, an increase of $1,500 to provide funds for a jail chaplain, $2,000 more to add to the salary of the administrator of the Narcotic Addiction Control Department and an increase of $28,000 to reinstate the position of deputy mental health director.

Also included is an increase of $145,000 for county road maintenance.

Prior to the vote, the Legislature was also asked by Mabie to reinstate the $17,500 for the Community Action Program and the motion to amend the budget resolution was seconded by Brazier. The move failed by a vote of 19-10 against it.

Another motion to refer the budget back to committee was made by Debrosky and seconded by Kirschner. It too, went down to defeat, 16-13 against it.

Absent from the meeting due to illness were: three Democratic city representatives, William Davis, William Edelmuth and Orrie R. Riehl. Also, Democratic Wawarsing Legislator George Barthel.

A large delegation of representatives of Community Action were present at the meeting, including Executive Director Lou Grimaldi. Grimaldi addressed the board and asked it to reconsider its action with regard to the funding of the program. Other speaking in the same vein were the Rev. James Veatch chairman of the Community Action Board and the Rev. John Van Ness, of the Ulster County Migrant Council.

Tentative figures show that the city resident's share of county taxes is up $6.39 cents per thousand of assessed valuation. The current rate is $22.30 per thousand and the 1972 rate will be $28.70.

In the towns of the county, the rates per thousand dollars are as follows: (old rate first, new rate, second).

Dennnig, $86.76, $118.37; up $31.61;

Esopus, $43.38, $63.13, up $19.75;

HONOLULU (AP) — Some 2,500 members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association are gathered today on the 30th anniversary of the attack which propelled the United States into World War II.

Edward Martin of Rolling Acres and John Provenzano of Kingston and their wives are in Pearl Harbor for the ceremonies. Martin and Provenzano were stationed at Pearl Harbor 30 years ago and are now members of the Ulster County chapter of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association.

They attended services at the site of the Japanese attack, as other ceremonies are held around the nation to honor the 2,409 Americans killed at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

Adm. Bernard A. Clarey, commander of the U.S. Pacific fleet, spoke at a sunrise service starting at 7:55 a.m. Hawaii time, the hour the attack began.

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii, an American of Japanese descent . .who was decorated for valor in Europe during World War II, spoke at sunset memorial services held at the white memorial constructed atop the sunken battleship Arizona.

Inouye, who enlisted in the Army as a private and emerged as a captain at war's end, earned the Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's second highest award for heroism on the battlefield.

The services at the Arizona memorial were requested by the survivors association, which is holding its annual convention.

The Arizona is a watery tomb for the 1,102 men who were trapped in the battlewagon when she went to the bottom.

Parts of the ship can still be seen below the surface of the clear water and occasionally oil from the Arizona bubbles to the surface.

The start of another memorial was scheduled today. It will mark the site of the sunken antiaircraft gunnery ship Utah and the 54 crewmen who went down with her.

John Berlier of Indianapolis, secretrary-treasurer of the survivors association, said 85 chapters across the nation have scheduled observances of Pearl Harbor Day today.

In Tucson, Ariz., memorial services for the men who died aboard the Arizona were held Sunday at the University of Arizona's Student Union building.

The structure was built in memory of those who were killed aboard the ship at Pearl Harbor and one of the battleship's bells hangs in the union tower.

The ceremony was sponsored by the Tucson, Yuma and Phoenix units of the Fleet Reserve Association and the University of Arizona.

In New York City, the Statue of Liberty chapter of the survivors association held observances today at Ft. Schuyler in the Bronx.

A similar observance was held in Bakersfield, Calif., and in St. Louis, Amvets Post 12 held aboard two Coast Guard cutters on the Mississippi River.

India, Pakistan Claim Advances; UN Will Call for Cease-Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

India claimed sweeping advances in East Pakistan today, with the Pakistani army on the run and its air and sea communications with West Pakistan cut. But New Delhi reported heavy fighting on the other side of India, in Kashmir, and said its forces "have given up a certain amount of ground."

A Pakistani spokesman in Rawalpindi claimed that the Pakistani forces were advancing rapidly in Kashmir.

An Indian spokesman said the Pakistanis had thrown two infantry divisions and three armored brigades into the battle in the Chamb sector in southwestern Kashmir, between the Indian city of Jammu and Sialkot in Pakistan. It is ideal terrain for tanks and was the scene of heavy fighting in the 1965 war for Kashmir.

Pakistani forces are also putting heavy pressure on the Indians in the Punch area to the north of Chamb, the spokesman reported. "Their main activity has been in those two sectors of Jammu and Kashmir," he said, "and they have repeatedly tried to capture Punch."

However, the spokesman in Rawalpindi claimed Pakistani forces are fighting "on Indian soil in all sectors on the western front." He said the Indians were putting up resistance in areas outside Kashmir but did not pinpoint these.

Monday night spokesmen in Rawalpindi claimed the capture of Mandiala, in the Chamb sector, and advances around Punch. India, meanwhile, claimed its troops had destroyed 96 Pakistani tanks on the western front.

An Indian spokesman admitted the loss of Mandiala but claimed that the Pakistanis were thrown back in the Punch sector near Mendhar.

"The hard outer core of Pakistan's defenses in the East has been smashed, and our progress now should be much more rapid," said Maj. Gen. F. R. Jacob, the chief of staff for India's Eastern Command.

Indian spokesmen claimed the capture of Feni, cutting the road and railway between Dacca, the East Pakistan capital, and Chittagong, the chief port; that the Pakistani army had been cleared from the northern border; that Indian forces were pressing on Sylhet, in the northeast; that Comilla on the southeast had been surrounded, and that Indian units were three miles from Jenia, an important communications center.

Jacob claimed 110 Pakistani troops have been killed in the last 24 hours, 20 wounded and 54 captured in East Pakistan. He said Indian casualties were "light to moderate."

The general said since the war began Friday, 427 Pakistanis have been killed on the Eastern front, 219 have been wounded and 480 captured.

Antiaircraft guns opened up in Bombay, India's most populous city, after radarmen reported a flight of Pakistani jets coming in from the Arabian Sea. Hospital officials reported about 70 persons were wounded, some seriously, by shrapnel from antiaircraft guns.

In New York, the U.N. Security Council abandoned its attempts to adopt a cease-fire resolution and referred the matter to the General Assembly. The assembly scheduled morning, afternoon and evening sessions today and was expected to adopt a resolution calling for a cease-fire and withdrawal of all forces to positions well away from those they held before the fighting.

U.S. Moves to Cut Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to act today or Wednesday on a move to cut off $349 million in aid to India and Pakistan until the two nations stop fighting.

The suspension was approved Monday by the House Appropriations Committee following a State Department move to halt $87.6 million in aid bound for India.

The White House blamed India for the outbreak of war, saying it was "very unfortunate and quite contrary to recent favorable international trends" for India's armed forces to move into East Pakistan.

However, two senators just back from India criticized the Nixon administration for what they called unwarranted but obvious bias in favor of Pakistan, which they agreed was outgunned by India.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, called for an even-handed neutrality in dealing with the warring nations, and Sen. William B. Sarbe, R-Ohio, said both sides had lied to him about their intentions as they planned aggressive moves against each other.

The House committee acted on the India-Pakistan issue as it cleared for a House vote a $2.48-billion foreign aid bill that also would eliminate the $100-million U.S. contribution to the United Nations' major foreign-aid program.

The committee approved by voice vote a proposal to ban any new U.S. aid during the India-Pakistan fighting except for refugee and humanitarian relief. The ban could be lifted if President Nixon declared the aid in America's own best interest, but Sen. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., said he did not believe Nixon would make such a move.

The bill included $230.1 million for India, $118.6 million for Pakistan and $300,000 for U.S. training of Indian troops.

County Chamber of Commerce Asks for Resident Planner

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON — The Total Community Development Committee of the Ulster County Chamber of Commerce has sent a resolution to Mayor Francis R. Koenig asking for a resident planner for the city.

Koenig, contatcted The Freeman, following Monday's press conference at the Chamber of Commerce offices on Albany Avenue, said the proposal was under consideration but indicated that its implementation would depend on budgetory considerations.

Monday night, the Ulster County Legislature approved its 1972 budget which carried a 28 per cent increase for the city. The city tax rate paid to the county rose from this year's $22.30 to a 1972 rate of $28.70 per thousand.

Koenig is in agreement, in theory, on the need for a resident planner. "It's about time we had a planner," he said, "but it depends on what monies we have available for next year's budget."

Dr. Jeremiah Sachs, chairman of the TCD Committee, and Len Cane, executive vice president of the Chamber, conducted the press conference, outlining their ideas on the need for a resident planner.

Both men emphasized that "we're not saying that the city planners we've had haven't done a good job or that the planning board hasn't done a good job. But having someone in part time doesn't allow them to get a feel for the community. Planning changes, you need someone on top of it all the time."

Sachs ssaid his committee conducted a study of other cities of Kingston's size, (25,000 population) that have planners. Poughkeepsie and Newburgh both utilized resident planners. The cost, per year, Sachs said, ranges from $12,000 to about $50,000.

Cane noted, however, "a fairly good sized part of the cost would be washed out by new programs and funding that the planner could dig up."

Cane said that the County Planning Commission, under the direction of Herbert Hekler, has secured $3.8 million in federal and state funds for various projects since its inception. "They're doing a beautiful job up there," Cane said. "We could have the same thing in Kingston."

Sachs also saw the planner as a promoter of new industry and business for the community and a promoter of closer ties between government and its constituents.

Alderman Smith Upset Over Issue

KINGSTON — Third Ward Alderman Brian D. Smith has taken exception to the matter in which the proposed Glen Street Apartment complex has been deleted from tonight's Common Council meeting.

Alderman Smith said today, "I have vigorously fought this proposal and had asked that the issue be brought to a vote as soon as possible. I was promised that it would go before the Common Council at tonight's meeting.

Yesterday, I was informed by Laws and Rules Committee Chairman Donald Quick that the proposal would stay in committee, due to a recommendation from Albany, that all re-zonings be held up.

"I don't go along with this. I definetely believe there's more to it than what's been said. As you know, because of the Protest Petition filed, I needed only four votes to defeat this proposal. Now with realignment of the Common Council commencing on Jan. 1, four new alderman will be seated," Smith said.

"None of these men attended the Public Hearing nor could they attend the Laws and Rules Committee meetings. Therefore, they are not well-informed on the matter and would not be able to cast an intelligent vote if the proposal is to be voted on early next year."

"I want not only the people who live directly within this proposed site, but all Kingstonians to be aware of these happenings and what they can expect in the future if this proposal goes through. Those who live in residential areas will have no protection or security as to what or who builds near them," Smith asserted.

Weather Conditions Cause Area Accidents

By WALTER S. CLARK

TOWN OF MARBLETOWN — A combination of sleet, snow and rain on Monday slicked highways in many parts of this section of the Hudson Valley and resulted in a rash of traffic accidents, several causing personal injuries.

The inclement weather caused the cancelation of classes in some area schools.

Dutchess, Ulster and Orange Counties had their share of highway accidents.

A tractor-trailer mishap on Route 209 near Stone Ridge resulted in a traffic blockage for more than two hours. Hurley State Police also reported another tractor-trailer accident occurred on Sawkill Road that resulted in an electric power failure that extended through that area until repairs were made.

Trooper Norman L. Kilfoyle of Hurley reported a lumber truck owned and operated by Anthony Giardiano of the Greene County community of Earlton was proceeding along Route 209 Monday afternoon when it reportedly skidded out of control and overturned blocking the highway in both directions.

The driver luckily escaped injury as the result of the mishap.

The driver luckily escaped injury.

The truck involved in the accident that occurred yesterday on Sawkill Road near the Sawkill Snack Bar in the Town of Kingston was owned by Leo Darwak of Kingston and operated at the time by Kenneth Whipple.

Troopers said the vehicle skidded on slippery pavement and left the road snapping off a utility pole.

Hurley State Police also reported they investigated a rash of property damage accidents during the snow and sleet storm.

Rhinebeck State Police investigated eight traffic accidents that occurred during the period the highways in Northern Dutchess County were slick with ice and slush due to the morning sleet and snow showers.

Troopers reported two personal injury mishaps. The others involved property damage.

Steve Jablonski, 24, of the Columbia County community of Philmont, was severely injured when his car was involved in a crash with a vehicle operated by Edna Spotwood, 24, of Staatsburg. Both vehicles were eastbound on Route 9 in Rhinebeck at the time of the mishap.

Jablonski was taken to Northern Dutchess Hospital suffering fractures of the left ankle, both hips and pelvis, authorities saidd. The woman complained of neck pains and did not need hospitalization, authorities reported. Jablonski was cited for driving at a speed too fast for conditions.

Another mishap reported by Rhinebeck troopers occurred on River Road in Red Hook Franklin Corey of that community lost control on a curve and slammed into a brick wall. He was taken to Northern Dutchess Hospital and treated for injuries of the knees.

A tractor-trailer hauling a cargo of concentrated acid skidded off the State Thruway near Catskill yesterday, causing some concern among police officials until the load was transferred to another vehicle. There were no injuries reported in that accidednt.

An Ulster County highway department truck-plow was involved in an accident on Sawkill Road Monday shortly before 8:30 a.m. The vehicle was being operated by Nelson Bonesteel, 51 of Glenford, when a southbound car driven by John Greklek, 36 of Route 1, Woodstock, rounded a curve and skidded into the plow.

Deputy Sheriff Christopher Jones reported Greklek sustained bruises of the ribs.

Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company reported that there were no instances of disrupted utility service because of the snow and sleet. New York Telephone Company reported minor weather-related troubles in the Phoenicia area Monday.

Unusual Sentence For Bribery Case

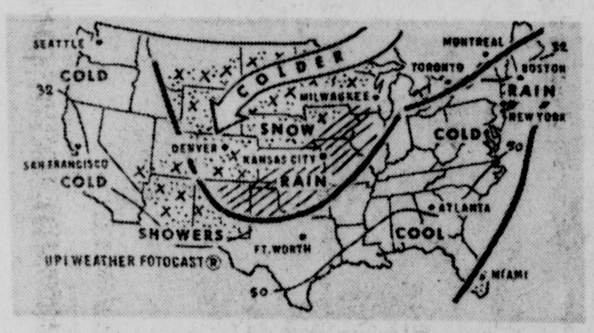

KINGSTON — Arrested in September on a charge of bribery that accused him of offering $20 to two patrolmen allegedly to fix a speeding ticket, Richard Terpening, 24, of Box 8, Rifton, today appeared before City Judge Hubert A. Richter and pleaded guilty.

Terpening was given a six month conditional discharge under which he must spend the weekends of Dec. 10-13, Dec. 17-20, Dec. 31 to Jan. 3 and Jan. 7 to Jan. 10 in jail. For the balance of January and February he must report each Saturday to the officer in charge at police headquarters to do janitorial work that is assigned to him.

Terpening also was put on probation.

He was arrested on complaint of Patrolmen Michael Jubie and Junious Harris, who accused him of offering them $10 each allegedly to fix a traffic ticket.

An 18-year-old youth, who received the speeding summons and was arrested with Terpening on a bribery charge, previously appeared in court and he will be treated as a youthful offender. Under that law, proceedings in his case are not made public along with his identity, authorities said.

House to Vote on Measure

Massive Child Care Program Threatened With Veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A proposed child care program aimed mainly at helping poverty-level working mothers was threatened today with a veto and attacked as "an offense to God and man."

The massive child care provision is part of an overall $6 billion compromise bill that includes a two-year extension of Office of Economic Opportunity antipoverty programs. It was scheduled for a House vote today.

The Senate approved the measure last week 63-17, but House approval, which would send it to the White House, will be much harder to come by.

Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., ranking House Republican in the House-Senate conference committee that hammered out the compromise measure, warned in advance of House debate that "President Nixon is certain to veto this measure."

Quie told UPI he had been assured "by a very high White House official that there will be a veto. There's all kinds of grounds — the expense, the child care program, the Legal Services Corporation. You name it."

While extending OEO programs unchanged, the bill would yank Legal Services, which provides free legal help for the poor, out of OEO and set it up as an independent corporation. Nixon favored the corporate setup but objects to the makeup of the board of directors that would run it.

The chief point of controversy, however, centered on the child care provision that would authorize $2 billion starting July 1, 1972 to construct, equip and staff day care centers operated by private or public or governmental groups at the local and state levels.

Services at the centers would include nutritional, health and educational programs free to children from families with an annual incomes up to $4,320, and for a slight fee at incomes above that level.

Conservatives have mounted an intensive nationwide drive against the child care provision, charging that it would result in the state taking over child raising responsibilities from the family.

Rep. John G. Schmitz, R-Calif., said in remarks prepared for today's debate, that the provision would "violate the last sanctuary of the family."

"There is no substitute for the family. A nation of orphanages cannot endure, and should not. It is an offense to God and man," he said.

Rep. Ogden R. Reid, R-N.Y., the lone Republican among House conferees to support the compromise measure, said the conservatives have mounted a "scare" campaign and have ignored the fact that sending a child to a center is voluntary and that parents themselves will have a voice in operation of the centers.

A key White House aide told UPI that Nixon's main objection to the measure is that it would upset the provisions of his welfare program, spelled out in a House-passed bill which is pending in a Senate committee, that would give free day care services to mothers who take a job.

A Difficult Choice... Edgar Smith on Freedom

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — Edgar H. Smith Jr., free from Death Row after admitting the 1957 slaying of a teen-age girl, said, "It was a difficult choice, but I wanted to be free."

Smith, who was on Death Row longer than any American prisoner, said he felt he might have let some of his supporters down by changinng his plea from innocent.

"I considered all that. But I also considered that I had been in jail for 14 years and 9 months. I looked at what I had been through. It was not likely I'd gain my freedom in the near future," he said.

Smith was freed Monday night after Superior Court Judge Morris Pashman accepted his plea of no defense in the bludgeoning of Victoria Zielinski, a 15-year-old high school student. The girl's body was found in a gravel pit in Bergen County on March 4, 1957. The plea was by agreement with the state to avoid a new trial.

Judge Pashman set sentence at 25 to 30 years, then gave Smith credit for time served, suspended the remainder of the sentence and put Smith on probation.

Smith, now 38, was convicted of murder in May 1957 and was sentenced to the electric chair. The conviction was overturned last June by a federal appeals court judge, who ruled that Smith's confession in 1957 had been coerced and was unconstitutional. A new trial was scheduled.

Smith had escaped death 19 times by appeals and while in prison he wrote a best-selling book, "Brief Against Death."

Under questioning by Pashman Monday, Smith confessed to the crime.

"Mr. Smith," the judge asked in the hushed courtroom, "did you and you alone kill Victoria Zielinski?"

"I did," Smith replied in a barely audible voice.

"Was anyone else there when you killed her?" the judge asked.

"No," Smith replied.

After the judge's ruling, William F. Buckley Jr., the columnist and television personality who financed many of Smith's court appeals, accompanied Smith to Trenton State Prison where he gathered his belongings and was discharged.

He drove with Buckley to New York to tape a television program moderated by Buckley, "Firing Line."

Buckley asked why he pleaded guilty after insisting on his innocence for 14½ years. Smith said there were several reasons, including the cost of a new trial and the problems it would create for his former wife Pat who is now remarried and living in a Western community where the details of her relationship with Smith were not known.

Drug Administration Advice... Stop Using Hexachlorophene

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A chemical widely used for years in baby soaps may cause brain damage, according to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

Furthermore, the FDA said, the chemical—hexachlorophene fails to deliver on many of the claims made for it.

Perhaps the best known hexachlorophene product is phisohex, introduced more than 20 years ago as a surgical scrub and widely used also for bathing babies in hospitals and homes.

In a bulletin mailed to 600,000 doctors today, the FDA cited a new study by Phisohex's manufacturer, Winthrop Laboratories Division of Sterling Drug Inc., in which new born monkeys washed daily with the solution absorbed hexacholorphene into their blood and suffered brain damage.

Another study showed similar blood absorption and brain damage in rats, the FDA said, and a third showed lesser but measureable hexacholorphene levels in the blood of 50 newborn babies who were bathed with it. The monkeys and rats were killed so their brains could be studied. The babies, of course, were not, and the FDA said "no obvious toxic symptoms were noted in the newborns."

The FDA warned against bathing with hexcahlorophene and proposed this warning label for products containing it:

"Warnings.

"Do not use for total body bathing.

"Rinse thoroughly after use."

The action pertained only to products with 3 per cent or more hexachlorophene, including pyisohex and gamophen surgical cake soap.

A Winthrop Laboratories spokesman took exception to the FDA warning. "In more than 20 years of use and tens of millions of cases there has never been a single report of harm from phisohex when used as directed," the spokesman said.

Lack of Funds Causing Many Schools to Close

Inflation and an increasing reluctance by taxpayers to approve new levies have forced some of the nation's public schools to close and many others to effect stringent economies.

Some schools in Ohio, Missouri, Wisconsin, California and Washington have shut their doors until the new year brings renewed revenue. Officials in West Warwick, R.I., Philadelphia and New York City have warned that their schools may also close.

From Montana to Massachusetts, public schools have resorted to double sessions, elimination of extracurricular activities, teacher layoffs and greatly reduced services.

Mayors of major cities and villages have pleaded with state authorities for sustained or additional aid to keep schools open, but the states say their resources have long been drained.

In Chicago, the Board of Education voted Monday to keep schools open for the remainder of 1971 by borrowing against the 1972 budget.

The board said it would seek new funds—additional state or federal aid—to avoid closing schools early at the end of the current academic year. Its anticipated deficit is $26 million.

The board had previously announced plans to close schools for 12 days—from Dec. 8 until Jan. 3—to effect a saving of $1.9 million a day in operating expenses and salaries.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie of Illinios has refused to authorize additional state aid for Chicag schools until the city and Cook County made recommended cuts in welfare spending.

In Kansas City, voters decide today on a 54-cent increase in 1971 personal and property taxes for schools and libraries, which Kansas City School District officials say is necessary to prevent further cutbacks in services and to make some improvements.

The rate now is $3.75 per $100 assessed valuation.

City officials estimate the increase would raise some $4.3 million, of which $2.24 million would go for salary increases of up to 8 per cent for most of the school district's 5,500 employes.

Kansas City voters rejected a 90-cent increase in August.

In many states, maintenance and school construction have halted altogether.

Most educators interviewed in a nationwide survey by The Associated Press attributed their financial woes to inflation, excessive reliance on property taxes for revenue and the mounting reluctance of voters to approve construction bond issues or to increase their own tax bite.

"This isn't a very stingy town," said Laurence J. O'Connor, schools superintendent of West Warwick, R.I. "The time has passed for excuses and clouding the issue. It's simply, 'Do the people want the schools to stay open?'"

In California, the state Supreme Court ruled Aug. 30 that the present local property tax system of financing schools discriminates unconstitutionally against students in districts with little taxable property wealth.

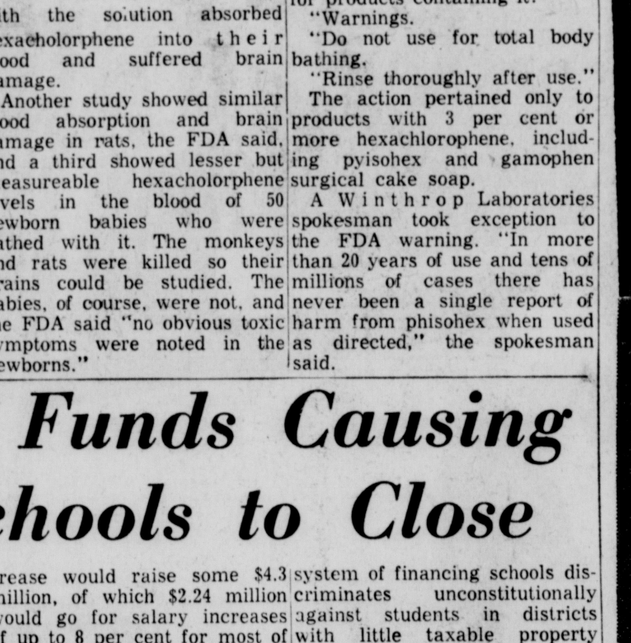

Edwin H. Harper, the state's associate superintendent of public instruction, said he hopes the legislature will devise a new system that will provide a "considerable influx" of new money.

"I think it's a long, tough road ahead," he said. "It won't happen in any one year. Education has a real tough job to convince the public and the legislators of the need."

Harper said 47 per cent of the state's tax increase proposals failed in 1970-71, in contrast to 31 per cent in 1967-68.

Elsewhere, officials in such states as Ohio, Oregon and Maine have been urging a departure from property to direct income tax financing.

In New York City, the president of the board of education urged the state not to impose expected aid cuts at the risk of early school closings.

Rosendale Trustee Charges . . .

Police Have Overspent Budget

By JON POWERS

ROSENDALE

Rosendale Trustee William Ritter said Monday he will demand a "full investigation" of village finances unless he receives a "complete and realistic explanation" of reports that the Village Police Department has overspent its budget by some $6,500.

Ritter made the initital charge Monday when he alleged that "the Village of Rosendale Police Department, under Chief Walter Byer, is running rampant with total disregard for conservation of Village funds."

"The Police Department is operating beyond its means," said Ritter, "and if it were to follow its own budget, it would have to end all services today." The Village Trustee added, "The total 1971-72 police budget is $1,500, but, as of the end of November, the total pay and expenses amounted to almost $8,000.

Ritter said he has been provided "detailed information" on the alleged overspending of the Police Department, but declined to name the source of his figures. Ritter said, however, this is "information I am convinced is true."

Chief Byer, said Ritter, was given $1,391 in pay and personal expenses in June, July and August. "Byer's pay and expenses in the first three months alone," said Ritter, "almost matched the entire year's budget for the complete department." Ritter added, "His fellow officers were given similar amounts."

Ritter also had sharp criticism for a Police Department decision to purchase a used patrol car for $850. The vehicle reportedly had 94,000 miles on the odometer.

"Rosendale Mayor Carl Grassi," said Ritter, "must take the full brunt of the responsibility for this critical situation that cannot be passed off as just "an oversight."

"The Mayor's only public statement," added Ritter, "has always been to run 'a conservative operation of the village in the best interest of all the citizens'. But this situation appears to be far from 'conservative' spending and very far from being in the best interest of anyone except the ones receiving our hard earned tax money in 'pay and expenses'."

Ritter said he will present a "full report" on his findings at Wednesday's Village Board meeting, and that he will demand a full explanation from both Grassi and Byer.

"If our Mayor and our Police Chief cannot explain what has happended then after this Wednesday's Trustee meeting I will contact the State (Comptroller Arthur Levitt) and demand a full investigation," Ritter concluded.

Meter Query in Ellenville

By WADE BURKHART

ELLENVILLE

The Ellenville Village Board is going to take a month to work out its answer to the question of metering the municipal parking lots following the publice hearing at Monday night's meeting.

Suggestions on the topic ranged from Special Public Works Consultant Bob Lockwood's favoring parking permits, to Chamber of Commerce President Richard Rothman's call for the lots to remain free, to Leo Cohen, head of the Citizen's Advisory Committee, suggesting that meters and permits both be used.

The village board is concerned with the lots' drain on the village budget while producing no direct revenue. Trustee Dr. Michael Tannenbaum had suggested both the metering and the permit plans, and the hearing was on the metering.

Lockwood said only two of the four municipal lots could be metered, as only the two paved ones could have permanent parking stalls. He also said the cost of installing meters would be about $20 per meter. There are 72 spaces in the two paved municipal lots, and installation plus maintenance, collection, and policing would be an expensive proposition.

Trustee David Kramer figured the lots could produce about $200 per month, wiping out the installation costs in about seven or eight months.

Permit parking has the attraction of a low initial cost, but the revenue can only be figured on the estimated number of people who would buy the permits, and the price of the permits. Price figures mentioned for the permits have ranged from $5 to $50.

Rothman said the village merchants needed more free parking, not less, and said giving out parking tickets constituted harassment.

At Tannenbaum's suggestion, the board reserved decision until the Jan. 20 meeting.

The board balked at paying $907.60 to the referee in the Appellate Division Hearing involving Ellenville Police Justice Ronald W. Elias and the Ellenville NAACP. The NAACP had sought Elias' removal, but had the case dismissed; the village was ordered to foot the bill. Village Attorney Alex J. Nirenberg was directed to petition to Appellate Division to vacate their order, and also their previous order to the village to pay the stenographic fees.

Lockwood delivered a full report on the snow removal operation for the Thanksgiving snow storm, and received plaudits of all. Acting Coordinator Howard Weiss said the Ellenville operation was the best "within 30 miles" and said village residents had been "spoiled" by the village's traditional snow removal efficiency.

With the board's authorization, Dowling signed a letter to the Department of Environmental Conservation giving the go ahead to the placing of rip-rap along the water side of six properties on Ira Street. Kramer said a week of sustained rain would mean losing two of the properties on the street. By "losing" the properties, he meant the stream banks would be undercut to such an extent that the properties would slide into Sandburgh Creek.

Cohen had suggested a skating rink be set up in the village at a meeting last month, and the board voted to go ahead with the project. Kramer and Lockwood have worked out the project, and estimate it will cost about $1000 at most. The rink will be 50 by 100 feet, and located on the old American Legion property. Dowling was not sure where the money was coming from, and neither was any one else, as the recreation budget was pretty well depleted. It was hoped a deal could be worked out with the Town of Wawarsing, possibly involving the loan of a bulldozer.

Dowling announced the village would get back $69,800 of the $78,000 it had put into Flood Control for the ill-fated Webster Street Bridge. Because of intense public pressure against it, the board had voted to scrap putting in the abutments and wingwalls at this time, and sought to get as much of their money back as possible. The money they did not get back had already been spent by the Corps of Engineers in engineering and design.

Dowling signed a letter, with board authoriization, to the State Urban Development Corporation, requesting a free feasibility study be conducted by that agency in Ellenville to determine the feasibility of a UDC housing project in the village.

Redesignation for 156th Unit

KINGSTON

Reorganization and redesignation of the 156th Artillery of the New York Army National Guard, has been announced by Major General John C. Baker, chief of staff to the Governor and commanding General of the New York Army National Guard.

The new designation of the Mid-Hudson Valley National Guard organization is 1st Field Artillery Battalion (155MM, self-propelled) 156th Artillery. It has units in Kingston, Poughkeepsie and Newburgh, representing Ulster, Dutchess and Orange Counties.

Baker noted that limited vacancies are available in three of the five units of the battalion. The vacancies, ten per station, are principally in the senior enlisted grades with the exception of five vacancies for lieutenants.

According to Lieutenant Colonel Karl C. Verbeck, battalion commanding officer, said he wants to fill those vacancies with experienced personnel who have recently been released from active duty.

A recruitment campaign for each unit in the Battalion was held recently, with emphasis placed on veterans and high school and college students.

Col. Verbeck stressed that by 1973 45 per cent of the Army's total force will consist of reserve units, compared to 29 per cent in 1969. "With increased reliance being placed on the National Guard in the event of war or national emergency, not to mention aid to civil authorities in natural disasters and other situations, it is important for the public to become better informed about the Guard and its many activities," said Verbeck.

Town of Kingston Opposed To Penn Central Plans

TOWN OF KINGSTON

The Town of Kingston has joined a growing list of municipalities expressing official opposition to plans by Penn Central Railroad to abandon its Catskill Mountain branch.

Kingston was inadvertantly left off the list of townships through which the railroad passes when it was originally drawn up by the Ulster County Legislature. The matter has been rectified. The Town Board, at its Monday night meeting, went on record as being opposed to Penn Central's abandonment plans.

Town Clerk Edward Seche, in response to numerous complaints at Monday's Board meeting, said he will contact Kingston Cablevision in an attempt to determine the cause of reported frequent instances of "poor" Cablevision reception in the township.

It was noted at the meeting that the quality of cablevision reception has varied for the past several months, with most of the problems encountered on the lower channels.

A committee was appointed by Supervisor Donald V. Dolan to obtain details on a reported bus franchise in the township. Councilmen Richard Alberstadt and Dominick Petramale have been directed to determine the schedule of the town's bus service.

A proposed recreation area in Sweet Meadows has been opposed by several residents of that area, and it was noted at Monday's meeting that additional sites will be studied.

Cathy Burton, a local high school student, told the Town Board that a Youth Group has been formed for persons 13 years and older. Youngsters in the Town of Kingston are invited to join.

Legionnaires Hear Speaker

HIGHLAND

More than 100 Legionnaires and Auxiliary members attended the annual dinner meeting of the Ulster County American Legion and heard Robert W. Garlinger, Department of New York Commander as guest speaker.

Lloyd Post 193, Highland, hosted the event with Vincent J. Distasio, Rosendale-Tillson Post 1219, as dinner chairman and toastmaster. Garlinger discussed solutions to the narcotics problems urging all to work together toward this end. State Auxiliary President Mrs. Lucy Coyle of Long Island, was also a speaker.

Manpower Council Head To Address Task Force

KINGSTON

Robert C. Randall, administrator of the Ulster County Temporary Manpower Council, will be the guest speaker at Wednesday's meeting of the Environmental Task Force.

Randall will describe the efforts of his agency in the cleanup and beautification of various areas throughout Ulster County. A slide presentation of the clean-up of the Esopus Creek will be included.

The public is invited to attend Wednesday's meeting at the George Washington School on Wall Street. The program begins at 8 p.m.

In addition to Randall's presentation, the film "1985" will be shown, according to Mrs. Shirley Kobran, chairman.

The Environmental Task Force, which has coordinated a number of recycling activities in the area, is a branch of the Total Community Development Program of the Chamber of Commerce of Ulster County.

Corbetta Proposal

Tonight the Common Council takes up a proposal put forth by Corbetta Enterprises to build a $5.2 million, 10-story apartment complex at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Hurley Avenue. Ordinarily, a progressive project such as this entitled to receive full support, but there are certain circumstances attached to this plan that should well cause the Common Council to carefully study this matter before reaching its decision.

Corbetta Enterprises has asked that taxes on the proposed structure not be based upon assessed valuation, as is customarily done, but instead taxes should be pegged on the rental income of the apartments. The figure the firm seeks is $210 an apartment, totaling $37,000 a year for the 180-unit complex.

Mayor Frank R. Koenig has made known his objections to this proposal and the points made by His Honor are valid ones. The urban renewal property in question is undoubtedly one of the choicest parcels in that agency's dossier, and infinitely better suited to a commercial rather than a residential endeavor. For the Common Council to allow what is in effect a tax abatement on prime property does not make economic sense. Originally, Corbetta Enterprises had investigated the possibility of building such a complex in the Broadway East section of Kingston, the development of which has top priority with the mayor. However, the firm feels that the uptown piece of property is better for its purposes, and who's to argue with them. But let's not have the Common Council consider the proposal on a cut-rate basis.

Tests on 'Pot' Usage

Dogs often are called man's best friend but in the research laboratory, that title might well go to another four-legged animal, the rat.

Somehow, the word "rat" evokes a feeling of revulsion on the part of most people, but rodents, in their own way, have served humanity well and their latest involuntary but beneficial contribution provides interesting information for the never-ending argument about proposed legislation of "pot" or marijuana.

Experiments constantly are going on for the National Institute of Mental Health and studies by scientists from the Mason Research Institute at Worcester could well give pause to exponents of unlimited use of the drug.

The scientists found bizarre behavioral changes and permanent brain damage in rats given big doses of a key marijuana ingredient over a long period.

The scientists were careful not to make any absolute statements. In fact, they were quick to note their uncertainty over the implications for man of their research. But they did urge doctors to watch for the same signs in their patients who used marijuana.

What the researchers did was to inject heavy doses of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) into the animals. This is the ingredient in marijuana that produces the "high." The rats reacted with tremors, convulsions and seizures. The doctor conducting the study asserted that serious losses of brain protein had occurred and that the brain damage was irreversible.

He admitted that make a valid comparison, a human would have to smoke as many as 40 high-grade cigarettes a day for years, but he also added "Perhaps if this gets enough public attention, people will think twice about their conclusions that marijuana should be legalized."

What influence this may have on users of "pot" is uncertain. People by the millions still smoke cigarettes despite all the studies associating them with cancer. At the same time the term "irreversible brain damage" does not paint a pretty picture. It might even stop a few youngsters from having euphoric pipe dreams.

THE OLDEST PROFESSION — French psychiatrists, meeting in Paris, found that prostitution is a stagnant business. Prof. Marcel Sacotte, advisor to the Paris Appeal Court,, said the "moral freedom" of the 1970s is to blame. The professionals face unpaid competition they can't overcome.

POPPY BAN COST — It will cost the United States $35 million to compensate Turkish growers for refraining from raising opium poppies and to compensate the Turkish government for the loss of revenue from legal opium exports. That is one payout we are glad to make, in saving our youth from heroin addiction.

Jack Anderson Says

Inner City Victims of Pollution

WASHINGTON—The chief victims of pollution are the urban poor, whose plight has been ignored at all levels of government.

This is the confidential conclusion of a federal task force, which also warns that pollution from the inner cities can seep into suburbia through commuters' cars, downtown drinking water and personal contacts.

An exhaustive report, prepared for the Environmental Protection Agency, declares:

"City residents must breathe the emissions of suburban (commuting) automobiles. City children play in the streets over which the automobiles travel, inhaling the gases and dirt left behind . . .

"Slums are plagued by rates because garbage is allowed to stand uncollected in unsanitary alleys for longer periods of time than in the more affluent neighborhoods.

"Dilapidated pipes and sanitary facilities . . . attract insects and rodents into the very rooms in which people eat and sleep. Insecticides are sprayed to combat the pests, but also attack the human residents . . . Lead-based paint chipping off walls, or accessible to children, causes lead-poisoning and mental retardation."

The study was ordered by EPA chief William Ruckelshaus, who appointed a special task force to investigate the "environmental problems of the inner city." The task force, in its confidential findings, lashes out at city, county, state and federal officials alike.

Environmental Mismanagement

"To date, most efforts have been compensatory, palliative measures to correct problems created by the enviornmental mismanagement of the past," charges the task force.

Not even EPA is spared by its own task force, which urges Ruckelshaus to take drastic, immediate action against huge industrial plants, auto makers, oil companies and other government agencies.

Although the report is supposed to be released about January 1, it's being juggled like a hot potato by EPA bigwigs. Some environmentalists inside the agency feat its toughest passages may be toned down before the public gets a chance to see the report.

To prevent this, we'll publish in future columns more excerpts before they can be changed.

Footnote: The task force chairman, Louis Lombardo, was fired a few weeks after the confidential report was completed. Both Lombardo and EPA agree the firing had nothing to do with the report's bold criticism of federal inaction. However, it followed Lombardo's personal attack on EPA for weakening pollution rules.

Washington Whirl

BASH FOR BUTZ—Agriculture Department sycophants, eager to curry favor with their boss-to-be, printed up party invitations in the name of "Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Burtz" at least three days before the Senate confirmed him by a narrow 51-44 vote. Perhaps worse, the party is being co-hosted by Butz and some of the lobbyists he'll be doing business with. As soon as the vote was announced, the bureaccrats dropped the invitations in the mail. They didn't even wait for the White House swearing in. The lobbyists, who're paying for booze and buffet for Butz represent the National Forest Products Association, American Plywood Association, National Association of Home Builders and National Lumber and Building Materials Dealers.

POLITICAL POTPOURRI—The real reason Treasury Secretary John Connally is cozying up the Republicans, say intimates, is that the Democrats treated him shabbily in Dallas after he was gunned down with President Kennedy by Lee Harvey Oswald. Thereafter, Connally's relations with Democratic leaders, including his mentor Lyndon Johnson, became decidely cool . . . Hubert Humphrey's campaign organization, which floundered in 1968, is now operating in high gear. His campaign aides are raising funds and corralling delegates with unpublicized efficiency . . . White House aides, who are watching the Democratic race closely, are beginning to hedge their bets on Ed Muskie and Ted Kennedy. One aide told us Humphrey now looks like the candidate who will go into the 1972 convention with the most committed delegates.

FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH—Dr. Alton Ochsner, head of New Orleans' respected Ochsner Clinic, has discovered, in a sense, the elusive Fountain of Youth. The aging process is hastened, he ha found, by cigarette smoking, overeating and sedentary living. The Fountain of Youth, therefore, lies in kicking the cigarette habit, counting your calories and daily exercise. He cited clinical evidence to us from lifelong research. But the best evidence was Dr. Ochsner Ochsner himself, who at 75 has the stamina and appearance of a man of 60.

Spy Blackmailers

That the traffic in international secrets is a outrageously glamorized on TV and in fiction—is bared again by the Paris implication that the French SDECE espionage apparatus framed former agent Roger de Louette into his recent dope-smuggleing arrest here to get rid of him.

Glamorous? It's a business about as glamorous as a terminal cancer.

TV and fiction feature women, of course, in their glamorization. This only compounds the nonsense. Espoinage apparatuses seldom use women, the notable exceptions notwithstanding.

Women are brought in occasionally as mere decoys for male enticement or as routine informers. To cite a specific case, there was the one involving Polish women under the control of the Soviet KGB espionage apparatus in Warsaw. All spoke English and were proteges of our Ursula Marie Discher, who had successfully entrapped tried-and-convicted foreign service officer Irwin N. Scarbeck of our Warsaw Embassy.

These jejune decoys (technically called "swallows") compromised 10 U.S. Embassy Marine guards responsible for Embassy security, the nightly locking of safes, etc. This example is typical. But, universally, espionage managers fear a woman may become emotionally involved and they shun the female's important use like a leper.

I have never encountered a regular Soviet woman agent who was paid more then $200 a month. That is about their level, worldwide.

Actually, women are more often involved in a reverse way.

Not too long ago the wife of an American foreign service officer at a key post in Europe made a trip to Moscow. KGB agents hiding in her Moscova Hotel bedroom spurted her with an odorless gas which leaves one unconscious but otherwise unharmed. Undressing her, they make her the victim of ghastly embarrassing photographs which they used to force her husband to supply classified information. The husband himself exposed this to the State Department, but it cost him his foreign service career.

Similarly, the KGB photographed former British Navy Comdr. Anthony Courtney, a member of Parliament, during a bedroom intimacy with a British woman in Moscow. Except for anonymous threats, neither Commander Courtney nor his companion had any knowledge of this until on the floor of Parliament he urged the expulsion of a number of Soviet spies from the Soviet's London Embassy.

Within 24 hours the embarrassing photographs reached selected Members of Parliament and one packet was put under the door of the Prime Minister's No. 10 Downing Street residence.

Combined with other entrapments, the pattern showed a systematized and relentless Kremlin program to influence British Parliamentary affairs and silence political enemies.

Identical pressures engulfed West German Rear Adm. Hermann Luedke, NATO's deputy chief for logistics. He necessarily held a COSMIC (an acornym of Coordination of Security Measures in International Command) clearance, and his entrapment finally drove him to take his life with a hunting rifle in the Eifel mountains.

Indicating the scope of such entrapment, five other suicides promptly followed: West German intelligence Maj. Gen. Horst Wendtland, the Defense Ministry's Gerhard Boehm and Lieut. Col Johannes Grimm, Economics Ministry official Hans-Heinrich Schenk, and press office librarian Edeltraud Grapentin.

Meanwhile, reverberations likewise hit us in the form of a senior U.S. diplomat, whose case has never been publicly disclosed and who was quietly permitted to resign.

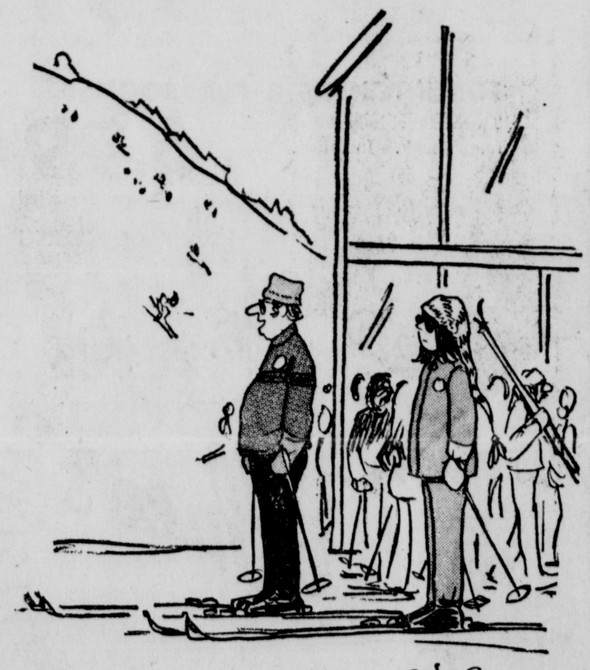

His trail led back through previous posts, all the way from Berlin and Panama to Western Europe, with much evidence that he had been a Soviet agent a full 18 years.

The prize—and priceless—information sought by an espionage apparatus is: What are the enemy's intentions and capabilities? This requires penetration at the decision-making, policy-making level. There are always enemy agents masquerading as friends and colleagues of high government officials. Every government is penetrated by enemy agents. Every intelligence service—including ours—operates on the basic assumption that its own government is penetrated. The only question is: To what extent?

Former CIA chief Allen W. Dulles once stated that "the Soviet had over 40 high-level agents in Washington during World War II. At least that many were uncovered: we don't know how many remained undetected."

It would be inconceivable to any experienced intelligence manager in this horrible glamorized blend of terror and blackmail, ugly and brutish—that there are any fewer secretly in place in Washington today.

The Blame for Pearl Harbor

You will hear a lot about Pearl Harbor this week. Editors and commentators embrace newsworthy anniversaries. It is 30 years since the Japanese task force, a few hundred miles northwest of Hawaii, sent its birds of war to attack and sink the American Pacific fleet. Last summer I stood on a platform over the battleship Arizona watching oil bubbles pop from turret number three.

Over a thousand sailors are floating inside that steel casket. Other ships have been refloated, repaired, or put to the acetylene torch. The attack was well conceived, the element of surprise was complete, the damage sufficient to keep the Americans on the eastern side of the Pacific for a year.

That's what Japan bought—a year. It seemed not to occur to Admiral Yamamoto, a brilliant officer, that any nation with the industrial capacity of the U.S. would build and build and build, and fight and fight and fight until, by sheer weight of numbers, the Land of the Rising Sun would be doomed.

As the American military posture contracted, the Japanese overexpanded, until they could no longer protect the real estate they stole. MacArthur, Sutherland and Kenney crept northward from Australia as Nimitz, Halsey and Spruance sailed west and southwest. Give competent men the tools and the manpower and they cannot lose a war.

Pearl Harbor, said Franklin D. Roosevelt, "is a day that will live in infamy." True. But there is nothing in military science which denounces the so-called sneak attack. It's permissible.

If America failed, it was in truckling to the omnipotence of the military mentality. Admiral "Dolly" Stark was Chief of Naval Operations. He didn't see it coming. General Walter Catlett Marshall was out cantering his horse in a park. At Pearl Harbor, Admiral Husband Kimmel and General Walter Short failed to receive the Western Union telegram sent from the Joint Chiefs of Staff to be alert to a Japanese attack.

The non-military mind asks: Wasn't it their business to be alert at all times? Hawaii was and is of vital importance to the U.S. Why did Kimmel permit his battleships to occupy inboard and outboard postions flanking Ford Island so that they could not be missed by bomb or torpedo?

The planes parked on the hard stand at Hickam made a pretty picture for Japanese pilots. Come in low with guns wide open and run down one side and the other — destroying everything on the ground.

Courts of inquiry were established. Volumes on volumes of testimony were taken and Admiral Kimmel and General Short maintained to the last they were not to blame. It was Washington's fault. Washington is a place meaning "top brass."

Nor does it make a civilian feel better to know that the U.S. Navy had cracked the Japanese code, and intercepted the lengthy message telling Admiral Nomura and Special Ambassador Kurusu to visit Secretary of State Cordell Hull at precisely 1 p.m. on Dec. 7th 1941, and to please tell him the empire of Japan had decided to break off negotiations with the U.S.

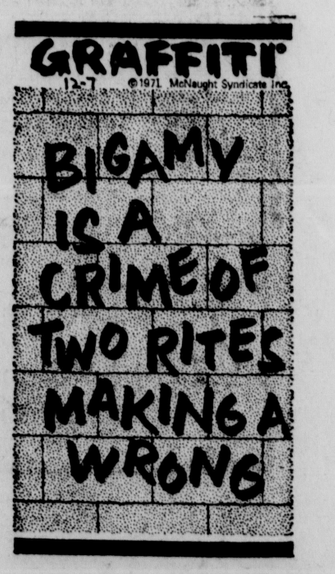

Hull was late for the date and, by the time Nomura and Kurusu tried to speak, the Secretary of State was aware of the first flash on the attack at Pearl Harbor. The Tennessee judge's contempt was spittingly obvious.

Some even blamed FDR, claiming that he had been trying to get our country into the war. Historical and secret documents would make it appear that, from the moment Germany and Italy allied themselves with Japan in an axis, Roosevelt regarded them as the "enemy," but he believed his admirals and generals when they said that Japan would strike southward to the Dutch East Indies to secure oil and rubber before moving against America.

Wrong. On December 6th, there were righteous congressmen still trying to cut military appropriations because they believed that war would not come.

When it came, shortly before 8 a.m., thousands of American servicemen in Hawaii were on weekend passes; others were at their posts, sleeping off Saturday night; a few were at Sunday services. Competent military minds will argue for another hundred years who was to blame for the devastation at Pearl Harbor.

No matter how eloquent the rhetoric, the final responsibility lies with the senior officers at the base—Kimmel and Short. They were in charge. They had intelligence enough to know that an attack on Pearl Harbor was not impossible; Yamamoto sat in the admiral's quarters aboard the Nogato, dreaming of making the impossible possible . . .

Teacher, Board Member... ...Different Combination

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINEBECK

Albert Vinck was elected to the Rhinebeck Board of Education this past summer—not an unusual thing except that he also is a teacher at Roosevelt High School, Hyde Park.

He lives in the Rhinebeck district in the Town of Clinton. State law prohibits a teacher from taking a seat on a school board in his own district, for obvious reasons.

The Freeman spoke with Vinck, a young man in his late 20s, concerning several aspects of education viewed as both a teacher and a board member.

When asked "what motivated you to seek a post on the Board of Education," he replied that his "idealistic" reason was to become involved in society to try and contribute in his field of most competence—education.

What is one thing you wish to accomplish as a board member?

"I want to help open channels of communication and discussion in our schools," he said. "It is necessary to change old attitudes and search for new and better ways to educate our students."

When asked how he rectified his profession as a school teacher and his position on the board, Vinck responded, "I do not think of myself as a board member or a teacher. I think of myself as a springboard for the community. In either position I have the same function, to represent the public."

And he added, "As far as making decisions on the school board, having spent nine years in education can only be an asset to understanding problems in Rhinebeck."

Concerning the Taylor Law, Vinck said he agreed with the intent, adding that this was to get teachers to be a part of revision in the schools, to help formulate curriculum, and to assist in decision making..

He commented, "It is unfortunate that many an administrator in New York State took the Taylor Law as a personal affront." And he said that students and teachers must not avoid added responsibility.

"As the United States courts have said," he continued, "school's should not be enclaves of totalitarianism. The Taylor Law can help to make them more democratic."

We asked whether Vinck felt he could act as a bargaining agent for the Rhinebeck board if the need arose.

He responded that "each board member should at least once in his five-year term be on the negotiating team. I would not expect in my first or second year to act as a bargaining agent for the board because there is so much to know."

In explaining his position, Vinck said, "This question is really asking would I bargain for the teachers or against them. My first consideration will always be what is best for our students, not what is best for teachers."

And in explaining his attitude towards teaching, he said, "Teachers should realize that the public is willing to pay for quality education, but not for a repetition of old failures. There must be fewer dropouts, fewer nonreaders, fewer academically bored, and poor teaching is the cause of many of these problems.."

Vinck defended the Rhinebeck board's policies regarding what is and what is not made public, saying that the chief school administrator "does not hide information from the board, nor the board from the public."

Revised Zoning Seen for Red Hook

RED HOOK

Mayor Robert Bowman of Red Hook said at Monday's Village Board meeting that the matter of revised comprehensive zoning will probably come before the public by early spring.

The Board appointed three new members to the Zoning Board of Appeals and changed the terms of office from three to five years.

Those appointed were Dr. Walter Flynn; Russell Adamian; and Arthur Fenaroli. Planning Board member was reappointed to another term.

Trustee John Gilfeather, in explaining the delays in getting cable television hooked up in the area, said he had been told by Kingston Cablevision that it was awaiting a response from Continental Telephone on street plans it had submitted.

Gilfeather said this approval was needed before the company could begin putting up cable. Clearance has already been received from Central Hudson. All necessary equipment has been stored at the Rhinebeck site or at Port Ewen.

It's going to come by law, but I don't know when," said Gilfeather. Deadline for complete service to all five Northern Dutchess municipalities is June 18, 1972.

A letter from County Representative Madison Sipperley Jr. to County Highway Commissioner Edgar Petrovits asking for some work at the intersection of West Market Street and Linden Avenue was read.

The Board approved raising insurance on the village hall to $90,000 and on the garage on Elizabeth Street to $20,000.

Trustee Doug Magley said that Red Hook Patrolman Robert Moul will graduate from the special police school in Kingston Thursday evening. He has successfully passed the course.

And Magley noted that there have been some complaints of vandalism in the cemetery with such things as overturned flower urns reported.

Mayor Bowman said that he had visited Alice Peers on her 100th birthday in the village Nov. 27, and pronounced her a "remarkable woman."

And another letter to Universal Builders asking for some progress on improving the appearance of its property was drafted and will be sent.

Rock Band Competition Is Canceled

KINGSTON

Because of the lack of interest and response on the part of rock bands in the area, Edward J. Coughlin, president of the Kingston Patromen's Association, today announced a rock band competition that had been planned for Dec. 11 has been cancelled.

Coughlin said that because of the absence of interest and little response by rock bands, "we are forced to cancel our association's scheduled competition. It is indeed unfortunate considereing the number of rock bands in our area, that only two applications were filed for the event."

The KPA president noted that in the near future the association will attempt to present a program "geared to the youth of our area which will be both constructive and entertaining."

Arrested in Stabbing Death

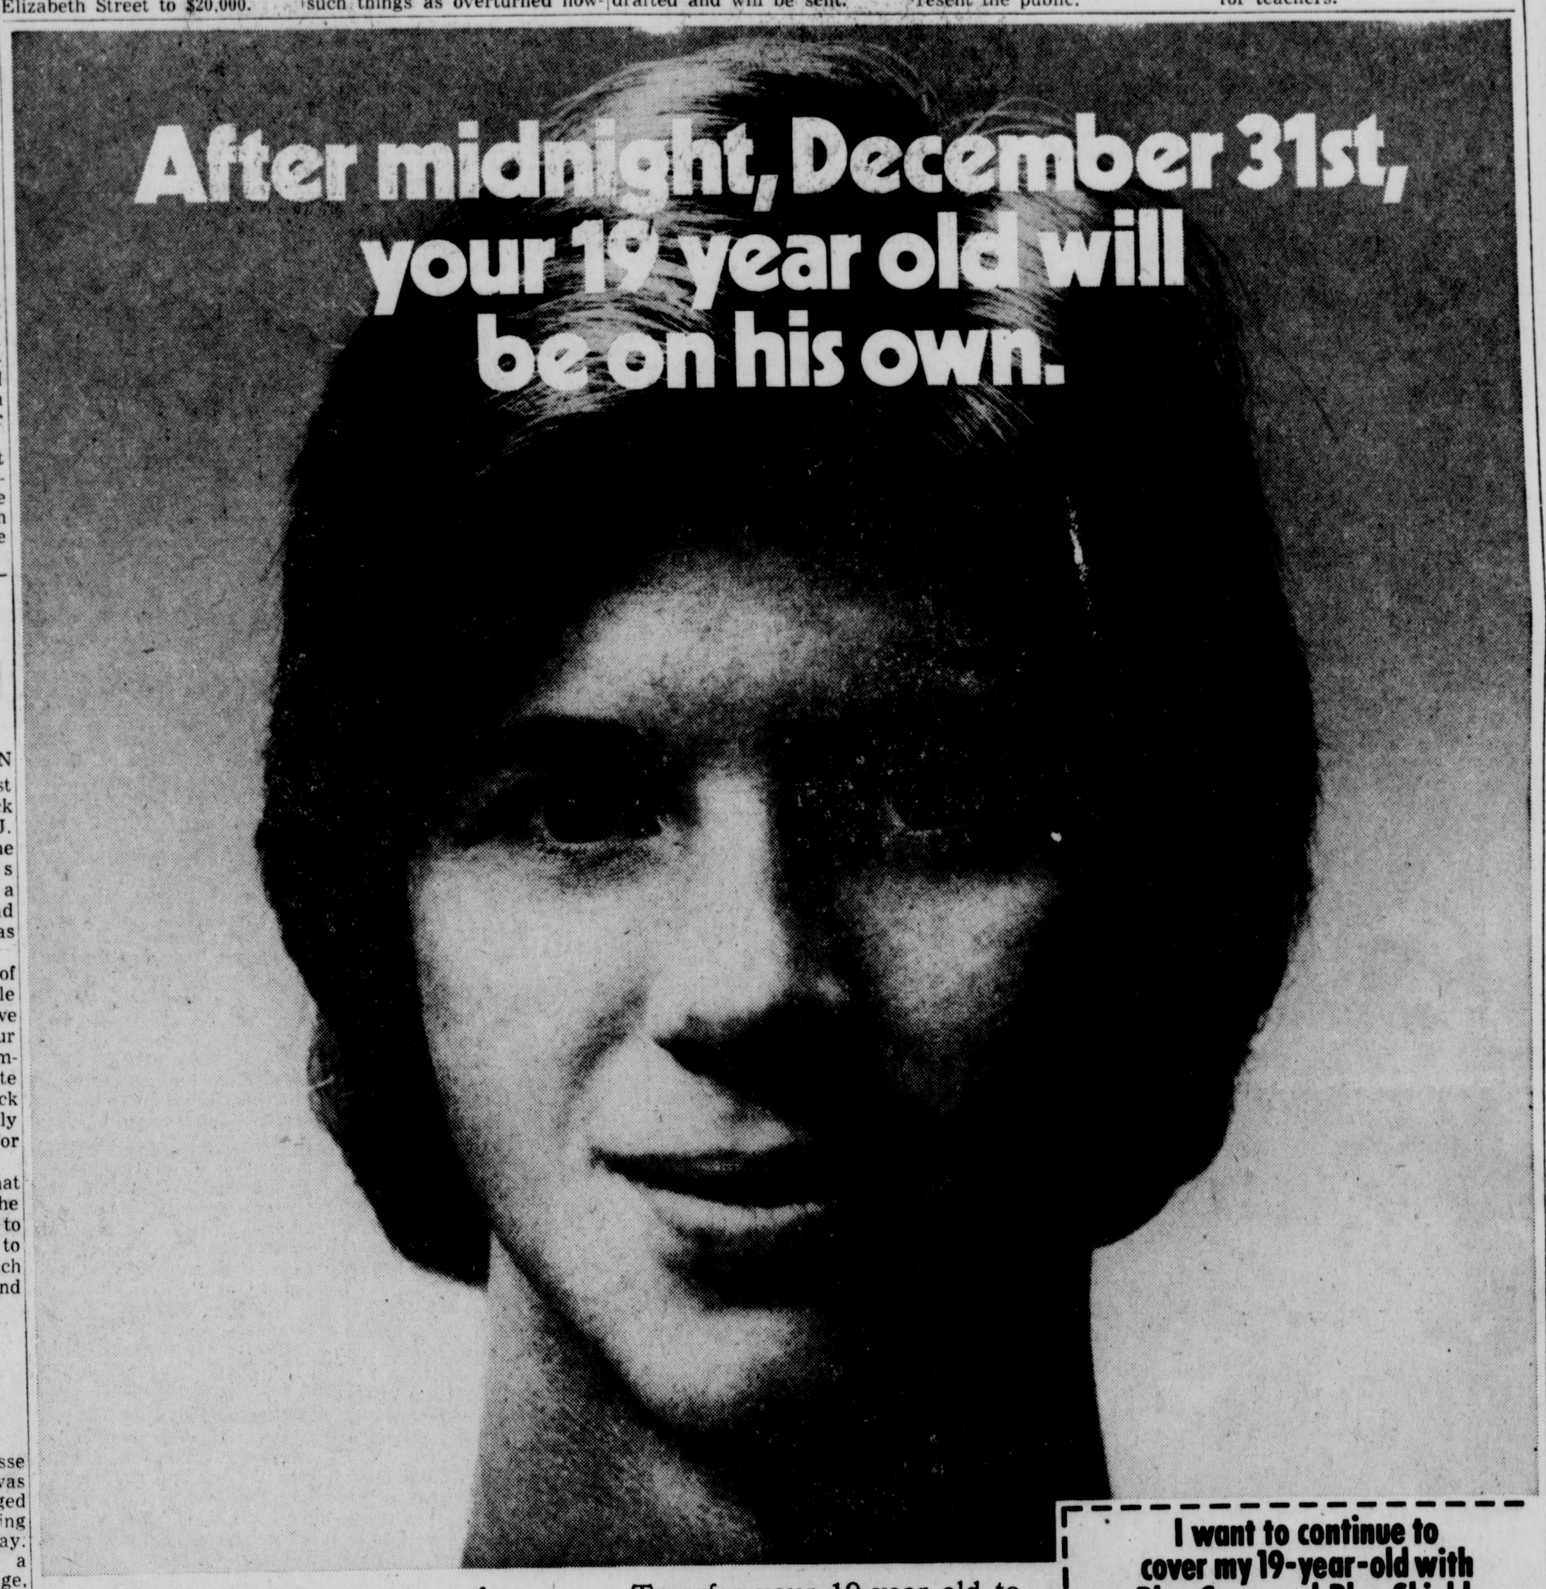

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Jesse L. Salter, 44, of Albany was arrested Monday and charged with murder in the stabbing death of a man here Saturday.

Police said Salter faced a hearing today on the charge, connected with the slaying of Early Carreker, 42, who lived in the same apartment building. Carreker was found bleeding in a hallway about 9 p.m. Saturday night, and died a short time later at the Albany Medical Center Hospital, police said.

Police could not list a motive for the slaying, but said that a party had apparently taken place shortly before the incident.

Until recently, coverage for unmarried dependents of most Blue Cross and Blue Shield subscribers ended on their 19th birthdays. Now we've extended that coverage to the end of the year, no matter when in 1971 he turned 19.

So, if your child was born in 1952 and became 19 anytime during 1971, he's covered until midnight, December 31st. But you must act now if you want to continue his protection into 1972.

Transfer your 19-year old to an individual contract of his own. To leave him unprotected is risky. While most young people are generally in good health, accidents or illness can strike—often unexpectedly and at considerable cost.

So don't delay. You won't have to pay until the beginning of next year when his individual contract goes into effect.

If you belong to a group you can notify the person who handles Blue Cross and Blue Shield where you work. If you're an individual subscriber and pay direct, send back the 19-year old transfer card we mailed you. Or, if you haven't received a transfer card, fill out this coupon. Act now, after December 31st it will be too late.

Freedom of Press Award to Times

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The New York Times has been chosen as winner of the University of Arizona's annual Freedom of the Press award for publication of the Pentagon Papers.

The Times will receive the 1971 John Peter Zenger Award Jan. 14 at the Arizona Newspapers Association meeting in Scottsdale. Times managing editor A. M. Rosenthal will accept the honor, the university said Monday.

It marks the first time in the 18-year history of the award that it has been given to an organization rather than an individual. Nominees for the award are selected each year by the past winners, and a panel of editors and publishers across the nation vote on the nominations.

The honor, given in recognition of "distinguished service to freedom of the press and the people's right to know" was established in 1954, by the late Douglas D. Martin, then head of the Arizona journalism department.

The Times began publishing a series of articles and documents from the Pentagon papers June 13 after obtaining most of the secret study of U.S. involvement in Vietnam war. Three days later the U.S. Department of Justice obtained a temporary restraining order against publication of the documents which later was reversed by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Fire Fighter Exam Slated

KINGSTON — Examinations for the position of fire fighter in the Kingston Fire Department will be held on Jan. 29, 1972. Last filing date is Dec. 29.

The starting salary is approximately $7,070 with benefits such as fully paid hospitilization, a dental plan and a 25-year retirement plan. Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 29 and be legal residents of Ulster County for four months immediately prior to the date of the written test.

Applicants must be a graduate of a standard high school or its equivalant and posses a valid New York State driver's license.

Further information is available at the Kingston Civil Service Commission, third floor, city hall at 408 Broadway.

Salvation Army Woman Killed By Bomb in Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A Salvation Army woman was killed and five Salvationists were injured in the aftermath of a terrorist bombing that destroyed a carpet factory Monday and ignited Belfast's worst fire in 10 years.

In Londonderry, Northern Ireland's second-largest city, the British army reported wounding four civilian gunmen in an exchange of fire. One soldier was hit.

The violence came on the 50th anniversary of the treaty partitioning Ireland between Protestant-dominated Ulster and the Roman Catholic republic.

Security authorities blamed the Irish Republican Army—now fighting to end the partition and bring Northern Ireland under Catholic rule—for the bombing, which wrecked the six-floor rug factory.

Two gunmen armed with a pistol and machine gun gave the workers 10 minutes to evacuate the Victorian building while they planted their explosives.

The 600 workers, mostly young women, scrambled to safety in the street before the explosions went off. Shops and offices for 100 yards around were evacuated as troops sealed off the area.

The fierce blaze that followed the blasts collapsed a wall adjoining a nearby Salvation Army hostel. The wall fell on a Salvation Army group serving tea and food to the firefighters; Mamie Thompson was killed, and her 61-year-old husband was among the five others injured.

Mrs. Thompson was the 151st person killed in Northern Ireland this year and the 181st death since the Protestant-Catholic violence erupted 28 months ago.

Former Aide For Stalin Dead at 76

MOSCOW (UPI)—Andrei Adreyevich Andreyev, one of Josef Stalin's closest and most durable deputies, is dead at 76.

The Soviet News Agency Tass issued an obituary of Andreyev Monday bearing the signature of all the top Soviet leaders, a posthumous honor bestowed only upon the most prominent of Soviet citizens.

Andreyev stood near the apex of Soviet power through all of the first 45 years of its existence, faithfully serving Stalin and surviving with his life and public honor while thousands of his comrades fell about him in death and disgrace.

He held some of the key jobs under Stalin, the highest being deputy premier from 1946 until Stalin, the premier, died in 1953. He also served on the party Politburo, the elite ruling body, from 1932 until Stalin's death.

Nearly all of his fellow Politburo members of those years suffered death, imprisonment, exile or disgrace at the hands of Stalin.

Andreyev owed his durability both to the fact he never offered a challenge to Stalin and to his extraordinary ability to bring order out of chaos.

He was born in 1895 in what is now the Smolensk region of Russia, and was given a name that would have as its English equivalent something like Andrew Andrew Anderson.

He plunged into revolutionary activity as a teen, and in 1914 he joined the Bolshevik Party in St. Petersburgh, now Leningrad, rising rapidly in the hectic days before the 1917 revolution.

His Bolshevik fervor and administrative abilities won him a post as a traveling trade union organizer, rallying workers under the Bolshevik banner in the Urals and the Ukraine during the tenuous years of civil war.

Through the rest of the 20s and early 30s he held a series of important government posts, including the Commissariat of Transportation and the chairmanship of the People Control Commission, at that time a powerful watchdog organization.

Church Leader Dead at 55

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The Rev. Donald M. Peck, district superintendent of the 60-church Rochester District of the United Methodist Church, is dead at the age of 55.

The Rev. Mr. Peck, who had assumed the post in June, died Monday of a heart attack at his home.

He had been pastor of the West Avenue Methodist Church here from 1959-62 and served in nearby Geneseo as chaplain at the State University College.

His other posts included churches in Lyndonville, Greigsville, Lockport, Niagara Falls and Pittsford in New York State and Johnsonburg in New Jersey.

He lived at 153 Highland Parkway.

Circuit Rider Session Scheduled for Dec. 14

KINGSTON — An all day "circuit rider" session with a representative of the Small Business Administration has been scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 14 at the General Sharpe Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Businessmen in Ulster County are invited to attend. An appointment, however, must first be arranged through the Chamber of Commerce of Ulster County.

The session is under the cosponsorship of the Chamber and Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr.

Following last Saturday's SBA seminar, attended by close to 200 businessmen, it was decided to bring David Offenberg, loan officer for the SBA, to Kingston. He will have quarters at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Dec. 14 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Offenberg's prime purpose will be to advise businessmen in the area of loan applications.

According to the Chamber of Commerce, a determination will be made on how often Offenberg's services will be required in the Kingston area. It was noted that he may conduct office hours here once a week.

Reminder Is Issued

HURLEY — Hurley Town Clerk Raymond Croswell has reminded residents of the Town of Hurley that they must obtain their required dog licenses by Dec. 31.

Croswell said the licenses may be obtained by stopping by or writing the Town Clerk's office at 51 Russell Road in Hurley.

Area Meetings Are Canceled

SAUGERTIES — Two meetings were canceled because of Monday's inclement weather.

Saugerties Village Clerk James Gage reported that the Village Board will meet Dec. 20 for its regular monthly meeting. The Board meeting was originally scheduled for Monday night.

A public hearing on adoption of the New York State Building Code, scheduled by the Hurley Town Board, was also cancelled because of Monday's weather conditions. Town Clerk Raymond Croswell said the meeting will be rescheduled for sometime in January.

KPA Ratifies City Contract

KINGSTON

The Kingston Patrolmen's Association has ratified a two-year contract with the city calling for a five and a half per cent pay raise across the board in 1972 and a 20-year retirement plan "in lieu of a pay raise" in 1973.

Edward J. Coughlan, president of the KPA, told The Freeman that the new contract was approved overwhelmingly at a membership meeting on Monday night.

The five and a half per cent pay increase will raise the yearly salary of a rookie patrolman from the present $6,700 to $7,069.

GM Timekeeper Now Chairman

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard C. Gerstenberg, who joined General Motors Corp. during the depression as a $125-a-month factory timekeeper, has been elected chairman and chief executive officer.

The 62-year-old executive, now GM's top financial officer, will succeed James M. Roche, who retires at the end of the month under the company's mandatory retirement program.

Roche, who turns 65 next week, has been chief executive for the past four years.

After his election Monday, Gerstenberg indicated no plans for major policy changes.

He expressed his "full and continued support of President Nixon's economic program," calling it the only way to reduce unemployment and inflation and strengthen the dollar abroad.

Gerstenberg indicated that he favors removal of the 10 per cent surcharge on imports.

"We in the automotive industry have been for free trade for many years and have not changed our position on that," he said.

Gerstenberg, whose corporate life has been spent almost entirely in financial work, was named vice chairman last year. At that time he also was given responsibility for GM's vast overseas operations and made chairman of the powerful finance committee.

His new job carries a base salary of $250,000 a year, but bonuses, fees and stock options have raised annual compensation in the past to as much as $790,000.

Thomas A. Murphy, now a vice president and executive in charge of GM's Car and Truck Group, was named vice chairman.

College Officer Due Wednesday

KINGSTON

Roger L. Choquette, admission officer at American International College will visit the students of Kingston High School at 9:30 a.m., John A. Coleman High School at 11 a.m. and Ulster County Community College at 1 p.m. Weddnesday.

He will discuss the advantages of attending AIC at Springfield, Mass., and will interview prospective students. AIC offers undergraduate degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education, Master of Arts in Teaching, Master of Education, Master of Arts in Human Relations, Master of Science in Teaching and Master of Business Administration within three separate schools — arts and sciences, business administration and psychology and education.

Founded in 1885, AIC has over 1900 undergraduates enrolled in the three schools. The student body comes from all sections of the United States and several foreign countries. Over 50 per cent of the AIC's faculty hold doctoral degrees.

Engineers Plan Meeting

POUGHKEEPSIE

The Mid-Hudson Chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers will hold its monthly dinner meeting at the Italian Center, Mill Street, Poughkeepsie, on Wednesday.

The featured speaker of the evening will be Fred G. Freiberger of the Safety Department of IBM East Fishkill. His topic will be Caught in the Act and will highlight the Industrial Engineers responsibility in the design and maintenance of a safe work environment in American industry. He will also discuss the recently enacted federal occupational legislation in regard to local industry.

The industrial engineers will hold a social hour and dinner from 5:30 p. m. to 8 p. m., preceeding the speaker. For information and reservations, D. Eddy my be contacted.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices opened lower in moderate trading today.

Declines held a small lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Big Board prices included Skyline, off ½ at 51; Kennecott, up ⅛ at 22½; Texaco, off ⅛ at 33⅛; Fairchild Camera, off ⅛ at 25; and Teledyne, off ⅜ at 19¾.

Stock market prices lost ground for the first time in eight sessions in active trading Monday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials which had risen some 61 points in the previous seven sessions dropped 3.87 to 855.72.

In early trading the Dow average climbed more than 8 points which analysts attributed to a cut by the Federal Reserve in margin requirements to 55 per cent from 65 per cent.

In later trading, however, brokers noted that profit taking forces set in. Big Board volume Monday was 17.48 million shares compared with 16.76 million shares Friday.

The American Stock Exchange index rose .01 to 24.61 with volume of 4.55 million shares.

Egyptian Authorities Now Evacuating Women Along Suez Canal

By United Press International

Egyptian authorities have started evacuating women residents from cities along the Suez Canal in case of renewed hostilities in the Middle East, officials said in Cairo today.

A spokesman said women, except in essential services such as nursing, were being evacuated from Port Said, Ismailia and Suez City and from the small townships on the western coast of the Gulf of Suez.

Authorities decided earlier to begin evacuations the first week in December.

Debate on the Middle East situation was scheduled to resume today in the 131-member General Assembly of the United Nations.

In Damascus, Syrian President Lt. Gen. Hafez Assad said his country would work tirelessly to liberate Israeli-occupied Arab territory, despite U.S. support of Tel Aviv.

In Tel Aviv, the newspaper Yedioth Aharpnoth said Prime Minister Golda Meir feels a favorable American reply to her request for more U.S. Phantom jets is imminent.

Mrs. Meir met with President Nixon last week to personally ask for the additional jet fighters. Nixon said the planes would be available if Israel needs them but made no promises for delivery.

The Washington Post, quoting what it called authoritative government sources, said the United States has agreed to deliver 12-18 A4 Skyhawk jet fighters to Israel starting late in 1972.

The Skyhawks are smaller and slower than the Phantoms but the A4s are highly maneuverable and can carry an 8,000-pound bomb load.

Orange County Contracts Totalisator

GOSHEN, N. Y. (UPI) — Orange County has contracted with the American Totalisator Corp. to operate off-track betting parlors in the county.

The contract was signed Monday. It calls for American Totalisator to get a share of the off-track betting handle on a sliding scale ranging from four per cent down to one per cent as the handle increases, officials said.

Estimates of the yearly handle in Orange County range from $7 million to $15 million.

Plans call for the first OTB office to open about April 1. One office will be in the Middletown area, another in the Port Jervis region, and two in the vicinity of Newburgh. Officials said it had not been determined which office would open first.

Advertisements Pay Off For Ulster in New York

KINGSTON — Excellent returns are being reported from promotional advertisements in Metropolitan New York authorized by the Publicity Committee of the Ulster County Legislature.

The ads are designed to introduce to the vacationing public the merits of Ulster County's natural resources and the benefits derived from visiting the Mid-Hudson Valley.

One advertisement in a Metropolitan newspaper has generated more than 2,000 requests for the county's new four-color Hunting and Fishing brochure issued by the Public Relations and Resort Information Office.

Another ad promoting a visit to Ulster County for a view of the spectacular fall foilage resulted in more than 500 requests.

The brochure ads further opened many other avenues of requests with anticipated economic benefits to Ulster County. Hundreds of them requested information about lodgings and many others asked about real estate availability and other data.

The great volume of mail received included requests for brochures from Angers, France; Pembroke, West Bermuda; Miami, Florida; Chicago, Illinois; East Liverpool, Ohio and Richmond, Virginia.

As happens in all mailings, there was also a return coupon without name or address and no return address on the envelope. The postmark indicated it was mailed from Maplewood, N.J.

The Public Relations and Resort Information Office in the County Office Building is currently in the midst of its mailings on requests for Winter Vacationland brochures resulting from a recent ad on skiing in a Metropolitan New York newspaper.

To date more than 300 requests have been answered and additional inquiries are received daily.

The next skiing ad will break Sunday, Dec. 20 and is expected to generate an additional 1,000 or more requests for the county's Winter Vacationland, ski shop locations and information on lodging and restaurants.

The Legislature's Publicity Committee includes Eugene K. Noe, R-Dist. 9, chairman; Lester C. Elmendorf, R-Dist. 2; Eugene O. Corey, R-Dist. 9; Philip H. Davis, R-Dist. 11; Frank Muller, R-Dist. 10; Charles Scala Jr., R-Dist. 1; Paul M. Brazier, D-Dist. 1; James F. Gilpatric, D-Kingston; George Barthel, D-Dist. 10 and Brian R. White, R-Dist. 9.

CAR TALK — Edward Tanis (L) of the Saugerties Antique Auto Club, is speaking with another antique car buff at a recent luncheon of the Hurley Lions Club at which Tanis spoke. Tanis told them a car must have been built before 1937 to be an antique. He said the Antique Car Club now has

Vacationland Brochure Set

KINGSTON — "Ulster County Winter Vacationland," a four-color brochure about ski opportunities in Ulster County was issued recently by the Ulster County Public Relations Resort Information Office.

The 1971-72 edition has complete facts on nine ski centers in Ulster County open to the public. Listed ski data includes night skiing, snowmaking equipment, number of slopes, trails, chairs, lifts and tows, equipment rental and other winter sports activities.

Copies of "Ulster County Winter Vactionland" are free and may be obtained upon request from the Public Relations Resort Information Office, P.O. Box 521, Kingston, N.Y. 12401. Copies are also available at travel centers throughout the East.

A detailed map of Ulster County locating all ski slopes is prominently displayed in the brochure. Ulster County ski centers offer ski schools and provide instructors who will teach the latest techniques. And there are hotels, motels, inns and restaurants to accommodate every taste and budget.

A list of ski shops in the Ulster County area which have a complete stock of all types of ski equipment and information about rentals is also available at the Resort Information Office upon request.

Another feature of skiing Ulster County is that you can spend less time traveling and more time on the snow. Even the most northern ski center in Ulster County is only three hours by car from metropolitan New York City.

This can mean enough time to visit two or three ski areas during a weekend, or several during a week-long ski holiday.

Ulster County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago notes that Ulster County has more public ski centers than any other county in the Mid-Hudson Valley. "With Ulster County's excellent network of all-weather highways," he says, "skiing in Ulster County becomes a mecca for all enthusiasts in the Northeast.

"Ski New York," a 16-page illustrated color booklet about ski opportunities in the Empire State issued by the New York State Department of Commerce is also available at the Public Relations Resort Information Office upon request.

Stock Firms Return $200,000 to State

NEW YORK CITY — Stock brokerage firms holding abandoned property of New York State residents have returned nearly $200,000 to the state during the past year, according to Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz.

The most recent return of abandoned property, amounting to $85,181.23, was turned over to the state by Walston and Company of New York City on the demand of Lefkowitz and State Comptroller Arthur Levitt. Previously, Bache and Company agreed to pay $100,000 constituting abandoned property it held.

Another firm, Hallgarten and Company of New York City paid $12,310 to the state.

Lefkowitz said that abandoned property which is returned to the state will be paid by the state to any individual who can prove ownership of the property.

The transactions were handled by Assistant Attorney General Gustave Harrow of the Attorney General's Trust and Estate's Bureau.

'Family' Drug Seminar Set at Ulster College

STONE RIDGE — A drug seminar, sponsored by The Family, will be held at the Student Lounge of Ulster County Community College Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Invited are students, their parents, and children.

The purpose of the seminar will be to promote communication between parents and children. It is aimed not at the drug user, but at the potential drug user.

A film collection from Boston University and New York University dealing with the state of mind of the potential drug user before he turns to drugs will be shown. Following the films the seminar will divide into groups for separate discussions.

Present at the seminar will be psychologists, clergymen, draft counsellors, and many rehabilitated drug addicts.

The Family is a non-profit organization. It operates a 24-hour switchboard at its Crisis Intervention Service at 16 Rock City Road in Woodstock.

Jersey Island Is Tax Haven

JERSEY, Channel Islands (AP) — This is one of the few places in the world where you can buy two drinks and a pack of cigarettes—and get change from a dollar.

But don't call for the furniture movers. It's a nice place to visit but the Jersey government won't let you live here unless you have money. That means taxable income of more than $25,000 a year.

The rich get the breaks, and they're taking advantage of them because Jersey is a tax haven.

By conservative estimates this small island between Britain and France contains 50 to 80 millionaires, one at least for each of its 45 square miles. The place is full of working and retired rich, former corporation directors, colonial administrators let out in the collapse of an empire, and the odd writer who woke up one day to find his forgotten novel had been sold to Hollywood for lots of money.

The island has far lower income and corporate taxes than Britain, whose territory it is. Jersey has no sales, inheritance or capital gains taxes. The money the rich bring in pretty well runs the economy.

Problems of everyday life rarely raise above the level of rain at a garden party. But this year the island had its worst crisis since the German occupation of Jersey in the '40s.

The prospect of following Britain into the European Common Market raised the specter of adopting Continental laws. For the first time Jerseymen faced the threat of paying taxes like ordinary mortals. They flirted with the idea of declaring themselves an independent nation of 78,000 people.

In the end the British used their genius for compromise. They won special terms in the Common Market for Jersey and other small offshore islands—Guernsey, Alderney, Sark and the Isle of Man.

Their exports, mainly farm products, will be protected in the larger European market while imports from Britain and the Continent will arrive duty free. At the same time the status of Jersey and Guernsey as tax havens will be preserved.

"The terms look very good to me," says G.C. Powell, economic adviser to the Jersey government.

Britain gave local parliaments in the islands the choice of accepting the terms or going for full independence. Powell predicts the lawmakers deciding here Dec. 15 will accept the terms.

Powell asserts independence was a real possibility if the alternative had been tax changes threatening a thriving tourist business, huge bank deposits from foreigners and rich residents ready to move to other tax havens.

For the British, this island Victor Hugo described as "a bit of France thrown into the English Channel," is the nearest, cheapest, sunniest holiday resort around, only 14 miles from the French coast. French and British tourists flock here for shopping sprees and contribute 39 per cent of the island's income.

In 1968 when Britain's top income tax rate was already 88¾ per cent, and its government was threatening to top that with a new wealth tax, Jersey suddely became very popular.

The top income tax rate here is 20 per cent.

The move was not cheap. Newcomers had to buy a house worth at least $60,000 and show evidence of income to qualify for residence. In that year alone 149 wealthy immigrants took up residence.

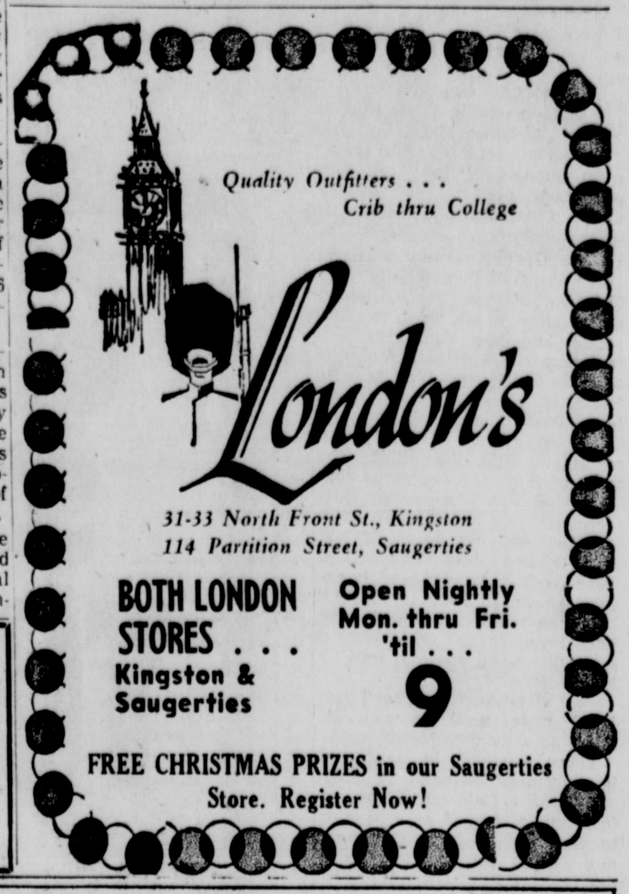

After the election of a Conservative government in June 1970 Britain's richest took a second look. Their taxes, in the top bracket dropped to 75 per cent. Jersey began to look as if it would charge Common Market levels. Last year only 36 wealthy immigrants from Britain moved to Jersey.

Powell reports residence applications are picking up again now. More than a billion dollars are on deposit here, largely from abroad. Powell says some of the new money coming in is being transferred from Caribbean tax havens because of concern over political stability.

Jersey's advantages include British living standards and proximity to expert financial advice in London, only 40 minutes away by plane. Islanders can spend 90 days a year in England without losing tax status.

Some rich newcomers admit to being bored, or missing the London theater. Others, like author C. Northcote Parkinson on Guernsey, who devised "Parkinson's Law" on bureaucratic growth, find the quiet life ideal for grinding out 1,000 words a day.

Now back to those bargains. A beer is about 10 cents, a whisky or gin 20 cents. A pack of 20 American cigarettes costs 30 cents.

Organization Dedicated To Aid Terminally Ill

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A corporation has been established to make living easier for the dying.

Hospice, Inc., is an organization dedicated to the terminally ill. Originally a "home on the way," a hospice is a place where—it can't be denied—most patients will die.

"We are trying to make dying more human and meaningful," says Florence S. Wald, a research associate at Yale University School of Nursing, who serves as vice president of Hospice, Inc., a group of clergymen and medical professionals.

"It's a period of life that can have a lot of meaning It can be content, full of joy, with lots of reminiscing," she says.

"There is no place in the general hospital for a dying patient," says Dr. Ira Goldenberg, a member of the hospice steering committee and professor of surgery at the Yale School of Medicine.

He explains:

"The pace of the general hospital is set toward getting patients out of the hospital, to get them to a state of good health. And the dying patient sort of clutters up the place, that's what it boils down to.

"In a general hospital the dying patient—who everybody knows there is no hope for—is the one the doctors visit last, if at all, on rounds. This is the patient the nursing staff finds that it just doesn't have the opportunity to get the bed bath as the patient who had an appendectomy the day before."

Goldenberg says hospices in England, notably St. Christopher's in London, have demonstrated that bringing the family into the picture a little more, and working with the family and the patient and the staff can bring a rejuvenation, psychologically, for the patient.

Life in a hospice is flexible to conform to the wishes of the patient, who helps prescribe his own life. Emphasis is on making the patient comfortable, free of pain and nausea.

If the patient needs another pain pill 3 hours and 59 minutes after the last one, he doesn't have to wait another minute, as he would in a general hospital, says Goldenberg.

But the patient isn't doped out, either, he says.

"We hope to have a staff that will work together, support each other, a group of patients who will come to know each other," says the Rev. Robert Canney, director of Catholic chaplains in Connecticut.

"To me, at least, it will be dying among friends, and people who care," he says.

Hospice is appealing for $3 million to build a facility in New Haven's suburbs. It would house 70 terminally ill patients, and provide outpatient care for another 70 who are well enough to live at home.

The cost, according to Hospice President Edward Dobihal, director of the Department of Religious Ministries at Yale-New Haven Hospital, would average 69 per cent of a general hospital's room rate. Dobihal is hopeful that the fee could be covered by insurance.

The dying may actually look forward to life in a hospice, according to Pastor Fred Auman of New Haven's Trinity Lutheran church and a member of the hospice committee.

Pastor Auman said the purpose of the hospice would be:

"To give that individual an opportunity to not be hooked up to every possible kind of device, to be given comfort, to be given, perhaps, his mind back, to be able to participate as a human, to receive friends, to be able to sit up because the pain has been controlled."

Hospice is several years from a building of its own, but already the staff is thinking of what should be written over the door.

One suggestion is "Alpha and Omega House," the beginning and the ending and the rounding out.

Another is, "Let's celebrate life together."

UCACLD Slates Program Each Week at Edson School

KINGSTON

The Ulster County Association for Children with Learning Disabilities began a Saturday recreational program last week that is open to all Ulster County youngsters between the ages of 6 and 12 who have a learning deficiency.

The program will be held each Saturday until May 20, 1972 at the Edson School between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Mrs. Sharon Short, physical education instructor at the Port Ewen School, will direct the program.

A full schedule of dates and nominal fees can be obtained by contacting Dr. Milton Chasin, president of the UCACLD.

The next meeting of the organization will be held Dec. 21 at 8 p.m. in the Edson School. The meeting will include films of last year's summer training program.

The UCACLD is an association for the parents of children with learning disabilities, and conducts a year-round recruitment campaign to involve all such parents in its activities.

According to Fred Christiana, a spokesman for the group, "Learning disabilities are often not recognized until a child begins school. Although a child is apparently bright and normal, he may exhibit difficulty in paying attention, identifying letters, writing within the lines or may not be able to perform at the level of his ability. Only a few years ago, these symptoms were treated as discipline problems or with remedial instruction. Research has shown, however, that these are symptoms of damage somehow caused to the brain. Experts began to realize only a decade ago the high correlation between motor ability and being able to perceive what is seen and heard accurately. So through perceptual-motor training, children can overcome these disabilities and learn."

Guilty Plea On Burglary

KINGSTON

Barry Davis, 20, of 177 Ten Broeck Avenue, pleaded guilty to a charge of third degree attempted burglary, a class E felony, Monday in Ulster County Court.

Davis was arrested Aug. 17 and charged with third degree burglary in connection with the alleged break-ins at the homes of Robert Herzog, 61 Lounsberry Place and Harry Harding, 248 Main Street.

The reduced plea was entered before County Court Judge Raymond Mino, who set sentencing for Dec. 29.

Georgia Group Scores Grave Condition

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Georgia group is attempting to move the bones of Lt. Col. William Few, one of the state's two signers of the U.S. Constitution, because of what it calls a neglected grave site in New York.

The Georgia Commission for the National Bicentennial celebration of the Revolutionary War plans to ask the New York State Supreme Court for permission to move the remains of the Revolutionary War hero to Augusta.

Clifford Clark of Atlanta, vice chairman of the commission, said the effort was prompted by the neglected condition of Few's grave in Beacon, N.Y.

"The roof of the vault has been kicked in and it's full of beer cans and trash and bones are strewn all over the floor."

If the vault and cemetery had been taken care of we wouldn't be proposing moving his remains."

Few lived and practiced law in Augusta until he was 52, when he moved to New York.

There worked in law and banking until his death in 1828.

He was a field militia officer in Augusta, served as a senator in the first Federal Congress, and was one of the founders of the University of Georgia.

Few left Georgia when he failed to win a second term in the Senate. According to his memoirs, he was "bitterly disappointed" by his Senate race defeat at the hands of electors appointed by the legislature. Georgia signers of the Continental Congress, he was one of two signers of the Constitution.

JENNIFER LEIGH VAN TUYL

Woman Is Named By Dutchess DA

POUGHKEEPSIE — The appointment of the first woman assistant district attorney in Dutchess County has been announced by Dutchess County District Attorney Albert M. Rosenblatt.

Jennifer Leigh Van Tuyl will be sworn in as soon as licensing proceedings are completed with the New York State Appellate Division. She will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Assistant District Attorney Denis J. McClure.

Miss Van Tuyl, 25, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Van Tuyl of 58 Robert Lane in Wappingers Falls. She is a graduate of Roy C. Ketcham High School and Vassar College, and received a law degree from the University of Virginia.

AT DINNER — An Ecumenical Workshop led by the choir of Fair Street Dutch Reformed Church took place in the Mount St. Alphonsus Seminary Chapel on Sunday, Dec. 5 at 8 p. m. Principals planning the program included (L-R) Percy W. Gazlay II, Fair Street Church minister of music; Randall Bosch, pastor; Gloria-Jean Clarke, organist; and the Rev. James Frazier, CSsR, of Mount St. Alphonsus, who coordinated the program. Singers and directors gathered for dinner at The Hedges prior to the service. (Freeman photo by Stoll).

Fair Street Choir Takes Part in Special Services

Several "firsts" took place on Sunday, Dec. 5 when the Fair Street Church Reformed Choir, under the direction of Percy W. Gazlay II, performed at a special worship service in the seminary chapel of Mount St. Alphonsus.

It was the first time the choir made an appearnace at the Catholic seminary and it was the first time a woman, Gloria Jean Clarke, was permitted to play the seminary organ.

In view of the ecumenical aspects of the program, a spokesman for the Seminary had this to say:

"Mt. St. Alphonsus, located for the past 70 years in the Hudson Valley shares with other Catholic seminaries the general purpose of educating young men for the Catholic priesthood. Speicfically, the training is for the active Apostolate in the Redemptorist enterprises in the United States and overseas in the areas of Latin and South America, Puerto Rico and Thailand. This apostolate is focused particularly toward the poorest and most abandoned people.

"Mt. St. Alphonsus is a graduate professional school of Theology. It is the last segment of a formal educational system normally requiring 13 years to complete. The Seminary has always seen involvement with the religious programs of Ulster County as an important part of its existence as a Theological School. Consequently, every effort will be made to help establish a forum for the exchange of ideas on an inter-faith level in Ulster County, and frequent opportunities for common worship wherever that is possible.

"The choir of the Fair Street Dutch Reformed Church was more than just the guest of the seminary at last night's service; they were rather the leaders of a common worship. In the field of ecumenism, music has a primary role to play in the reunion of divided communions, and by inviting the choir to lead the worship, we were aware of the ministry that would be performed by them. They gave excellent expression to the faith shared by us all."

Saugerties Garden Club Adjourns Until 1972

Saugerties Society of Little Gardens held its final meeting of the year on Wednesday, Dec. 1 at the Congregational Church on Main Street. President Mrs. John Whritenor opened the meeting with the Garden Club Prayer. Mrs. Whritenor welcomed members and guests present. Mrs. Gordon Keeley, chairman of the Memory Tree, reported that notices had been placed in The Daily Freeman and The Saugerties Post Star informing the public of the Society's continuance of the observance. She stated the trees are being readied for trimming and that some names have already been submitted for rememberance.

Mrs. Whritenor presented a long-stem crimson carnation to the three persons who have been accepted and welcomed this year as members of the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens. They are: Mrs. Paul Schmitz, Mrs. James Babb and Mrs. Robert Freer.

The president stated the changes to be made in the standing committees that will appear in the 1972 year book. The meeting was turned to the program chairman, Mrs. William C. Wadele.

Mrs. Waldele introduced guest speaker Mrs. Philip T. Brown who displayed Decorative Candles for Christmas. Mrs. Brown has exhibited her candle art at numerous flower shows in New York City and in March, 1972 will be exhibiting in the Philadelphia Flower Show at Civic Center. She demonstrated the making of a conventional candle and unusual designs such as; Christmas Trees, mushrooms and flowers with leaves. After the speaker's lecture and demonstration, members became actively engaged in making their candles for the Christmas holidays.

Hostesses for this meeting provided tasty and unusual refreshments in keeping with the forthcoming holidays. Hostesses were: Mrs. Michael Mattia, Mrs. Paul Schmitz, Mrs. William C. Waldele, Mrs. Joseph Keenan, and Mrs. Frnak Greco.

The first meeting for next year will be Wednesday, Feb. 23, 1972. Program, time and place will be announced.

Rondout Valley Middle School Plans Yule Concert

On December 15, 1971 at 7:30 p.m., the Music Department of the Rondout Valley Middle School will present its Christmas Choral Concert in the auditorium of the Rondout Valley Central High School.

The Fifth Grade Chorus, under the direction of Martin Kelly, will feature a program of seasonal and traditional songs, such as, 'Go Tell It On the Mountain'. "I Wonder As I Wander" and "Shalom, Chaverim."

Through the media of songs, slides, dance and commentary, the Symphonie Of The Sixth will present "Music — Mirror Of The Arts," "A Historical Tour Of Choral Music, featuring an original theme "Our Daily Wish," by John E. Ward, director of the choir.

The Seventh Grade Choir, directed by Harry Snyder, will air two original songs by Ben Gerard, father of one of the members. 'Sing' and 'Almighty Jesus.'

As participants in the New York State School Music Association Festival in May 1971, the Eighth Grade Chorus, under Mr. Martin Kelley's able direction, were recipients of the highest rating achievable in competition. 'Bring A Torch, Jeannette Isabella', 'silent Night' and other favorites will be performed.

Parents and friends of Rondout Valley are invited to attend.

String Festival At Onteora This Thursday

Shinichi Suzuki's influence has come to the Onteora Elementary Schools. This great Japanese man believes very young children can learn to really play the violin, just as they can learn to speak their mother language.

The elementary string players from all four Onteora Elementary Schools will combine to perform in large and small ensembles on Thursday, December 9, 1971 at 7:30 in the Onteora Central High School Auditorium.

The entire elementary string program is under the direction of Miss Susan Cronan. Mrs. Cronan is a graduate of Ithaca College were she majored on the violin. During the summer of 1969 she studied at Tanglewood in Lenox, Massachusetts. During the summer of 1970 she participated in the Ambler Music Festival at Ambler, Pennsylvania.

MR. AND MRRS. GEORGE SEBALD were guests of honor at a surprise dinner party in the Skytop Restaurant on Sunday, Dec. 5. The occasion marked their 50th wedding anniversary. Approximately 50 relatives and friends attended. The dinner was hosted by their two sons and their wives Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Sebald and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sebald. The senior Sebalds were married on Dec. 3, 1921 by the Rev. Joseph McInnes and wert attended by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tweitman, Sr., of Long Island. The couple hosted an open house party at their home during the day also. (Freeman photo by Stoll).

The following members will serve refreshments in observance of Chanukah on December 8: Mrs. Sidney Weinberger, Mrs. Irving Rudolph, Mrs. Herman Schneider, Mrs. Morton Levine and Mrs. Ben Werbalowsky.

It was agreed the calendar for the coming year will include a rummage sale, an art show, a children's show, and a cocktail party and installation.

On December 8, National Conference of Synagogue Youth members will display and sell Chanukah gifts and candles.

Among those at the meeting here: Mrs. Jack Shienvold, Mrs. Mike Weiner, Mrs. Sidney Weinberger, Mrs. David Barkin, Mrs. Irving Rudolph, Mrs. Robert Selinger, Miss Gertrude Reyer, Mrs. Ira Trast, Mrs. Jack Epstein, and Mrs. Howard Gershon.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sidney Weinberger.

Chinese Women Turning to More Feminine Clothes

TOKYO (UPI) — Is Communist China embarking on a new kind of cultural revolution by dressing women in femine clothes?

The suggestion that Chinese women may be shedding the drab slacks that have been their hallmark since the 1949 revolution came in two news pictures from China received in Tokyo.

Both showed Chinese women dressed for festive occasions in skirts and blouses, the first pictures of the type seen in Japan in several years.

One of the two photographs was printed in Jimin Hoshi Peoples Star, newspaper of a new Communist party sponsored in Japan by the Chinese, a party at odds with the regular Japanese Communist party.

The picture accompanied a story about a visit by Masayoshi Fukuda, head of the Chinese-backed splinter party, to an oil refinery complex near Peking.

The real eyecatchers, however, were the women employes of the refinery who were sent out to greet him. All wore bright colored print skirts and white blouses. The skirts were full and didn't do much for the figures of the wearers, and most of them had hemlines well below the knees.

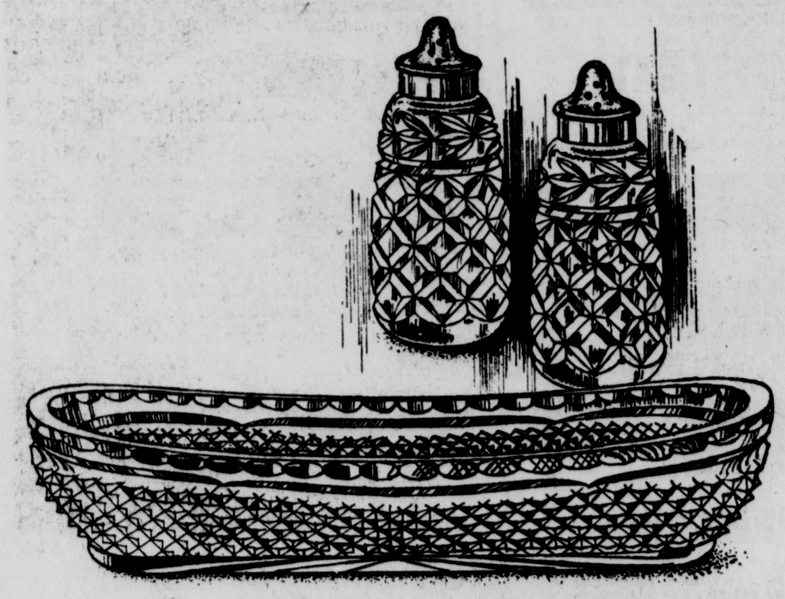

Most of the women wore flat, Western type shoes with a single strap over the instep. They had white anklets rather than Western stockings. The majority wore their hair in twin braids.

The Communists have played down the feminine mystique in China, except for the lavishbly dressed women who appear in some old Chinese operas.

Japanese travelers in Peking usually report seeing women exclusively in slacks, with no cosmetics. Public spooning by lovers is out, and even those on benches in public parks seem to sit at least a foot apart.

Tokyo got one of its few looks at Chinese women after the revolution in 1963 when a small number accompanied a Chinese delegation to Gensuikyo, Japan's leading ban-the-bomb organization. They were dressed in skirts with the hem about halfway between the knee and the ankle. The skirts had slits a few inches long extending up from the hems.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR READERS: Yesterday I published the letter which I asked my readers to help me answer. Briefly, an employe was invited to a housewarming party by his boss, whose wife had been sent to Europe to die following cancer surgery. The boss's girl friend moved in as soon as the sick wife moved out. The employe said if he didn't go he would lose his job. The wife disagreed. Should they go, or shouldn't they? I asked my readers. Here are some of the most quotable replies:

Don't go. Instead, send them a donation to the American Cancer Society in his wife's name with the following message, "Why housewarming for you two? Wait a while. Where you will be spending eternity you won't need to warm anything." (Chicago Today. Man and Wife.)

"Go, I think the boss rates an A Plus for living the way he wants to without giving a damn what others think." (Male. Seattle Times.)

"Whatever happened to decency and honor? Don't go, but make up a good excuse." (Male. Buffalo Courier-Express.)

"Don't go. Who needs this 'crumb-bum'? He's incapable of loyalty to either wife or employe." (Male. Philadephia Bulletin.)

"Go. And don't prejudge. Just because the wife had cancer surgery doesn't qualify her for sainthood." (St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Female)

"Don't go. I would rather support an unemployed husband than have him work for such a rat" (Omaha World-Herald.)

"Go How others live is none of my business. My husband's job is" (San Diego Union.)

"Don't go. A man has to have guts and principles if it costs him his job." (Milwaukee Sentinel. Man.)

"I'd find somebody with mumps and expose myself and my husband to them and say we're in quarantine! (Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

"Stay home! If the boss invited you and your wife to a weekend wife-swapping party, would you feel compelled to go? (Atlanta Constitution.)

"Go. Why be a moralist? That's God's job! (Louisville Courier. Female.)

"The trouble with society today is too many people are closing their eyes and holding their noses and going. Decline!" (Boston Record-American. Female.)

"I'd tell my boss to shove his invitation and I'd start job hunting." (Male. Detroit News.)

"The husband should go and say his wife couldn't make it as she is dying of cancer, but she always lets him get away for a good cause." (Minneapolis Star. Male.)

"Go! Judge not, lest ye be judged." (Female. Portland Oregonian.)

"Go to the party. Not because your first consideration is to your husband (what utter rot!) but because you refuse to sit in judgement of another human being." (Woman. Cincinnati Inquirier.)

"I vote go, but leave early. Why make waves?" (Woman. Washington Star.)

"Say hell no, we won't go!" (Male, Baltimore News.)

"Only in America do people put moeny before honor. Don't go." (Male, Rome Daily American.)

"Go. If Jesus could stand being in the company of theives, prostitutes and murderers, it wouldn't hurt you to stand a couple of sinners for one evening." (Female. Hartford Times.)

"Not only would I not go. I'd contact everyone I thought might be invited, and boycott the party." (Female. Dalas Times Herald.)

"I'd go. If I accepted the hospitaltiy of only those who were morally pure, I'd never go anywhere." (Male. Houston Post.)

"We vote DON'T GO. We're sick of mud." (Some guys in Vietnam.)

EGG BOXES AND CHRISTMAS — Grace Tsitsera of Three Brothers Egg Farm has devised a number of unique Yule decorations using colorful egg boxes. Here, her daughter-in-law Nancy, stands beside some of the interesting shapes and forms. The display in the store includes Christmas trees, wreaths, candle holders, poinsettia, bells and sleighs. All of the items were made from the foam egg cartons. Some are sprayed gold, green and red while others are in their natural colors. Mrs. Grace Tsitsera told The Freeman that some ideas were taken from booklets but the majority of them" . . . are our own and one idea just led to another." The display will be at the store throughout the Christmas season. (Freeman photo by Stoll).

Heads Retired Teachers

MRS. ELINOR B. BUCHHOLZ

Mrs. Elinor B. Buchholz of Brooklyn, N.Y. has been appointed assistant to the Regional Representative for Area II of the National Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons.

In her new position, Mrs. Buchholz will assist in coordinating the activities and services of the Associations' volunteer officials in New York, New Jersey, Delaware, and Pennsylvania.

President of the local association is Mrs. Alice Kinkade of Orchard Street, Hurley.

Prior to joining the staff of NRTA-AARP, Mrs. Buchholz served as Administrative Assistant to the National Executive Director of the Girls Clubs of America. She earlier served as Council Advisor for the Girl Scouts and as a Field Director for the American National Red Cross.

A native of Geneseo, N.Y., Mrs. Buchholz received her B.S. degree from State Teachers College in Geneseo and her Master's degree from Columbia University in New York.

With a combined membership of more than 3 million persons, the two Associations are the nation's largest organization dedicated to helping older Americans achieve retirement lives of independence, dignity and purpose. They operate many income-stretching services for members including an award-winning publications program, recommended group health, life and automobile insurance program, pharmacies offering prescription medicines at reasonable prices on a mail-order and walk-in basis, a service and a continuing education program.

The Association also sponsors many service projects designed to keep older persons actively involved in community and national affairs.

Mrs. Buchholz's new office is located at the NRTA-AARP Suite, 55 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022.

LADIES OF SANTA MARIA attended their annual dinner Saturday, Dec. 4 and officers for 1971-72 were introduced. At the speakers' table were (L-R) Mrs. John Alecca, dinner chairman; Mrs. James Polacco, vice president; Mrs. Vincent Carputo, president; John Polacco; and Mrs. Sue Benecasa. Traditional holiday latkes will be served and a slate of officers will be presented. Plans for installation services will be discussed.

The Youth Group will display Hanukkah candles, children's coloring and story books, records and games.

Proceeds of this sale will be used for the group's activities. Pinky Rudoph will display cookies, stationery and mapkin holders for your gift list.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUISE

DEAR HELOISE:

I wonder how many people really know what their pets look like?

Some time ago my parents had to give a description of our dog. He had gotten lost.

It wasn't until then that they realized they weren't absolutely sure where his black spots were, or how many white ones he had on his face — in fact, they didn't remember much of anything that would distinguish him from hundreds of other dogs.

I think it would be a good idea to sit down with a pencil and pad and write a description of your pet or pets while you have them before you and then tuck this information away in the envelope where you keep your pet's immunization certificates.

I just hope this will help someone else who loses a pet

UPI Names Nebraska 1971 College Champs

NEW YORK (UPI) —Nebraska, which parlayed a rock-hard defense and a well balanced offensive attack into a 12-0 season, is United Press International's national collegiate regular season football champion for 1971.

The Cornhuskers received 29 first-place votes and 317 points from the 32 coaches of the 35-member UPI Board of coaches participating in the balloting. Nebraska easily out-pointed runnerup Alabama, its Orange Bowl foe, which had 280 points.

Oklahoma, which suffered its only loss to Nebraska, 35-31, on Thanksgiving Day, finished third with 249 points and with 227 points. The Wolverines, Big Ten champions, received one first-place vote.

Auburn, with only its 31-7 loss to Alabama marring its record, was fifth and Arizona State was sixth. Following the Sun Devils, who lost only to Oregon State, was Colorado. The seventh-ranked Buffs defeated everyone this season but Nebraska and Oklahoma.

Georgia, Tennessee and LSU, three Southeastern Conference powers completed the top 10. The ninth-ranked Vols dealt a serious blow to Eastern football last Saturday by defeating Penn State, 31-11, and knocking the Nittany Lions out of the final top 10.

Penn State, which still won the Lambert Trophy, symbolic of football supremacy in the East, was followed by its Cotton Bowl opponent, Texas (12th), unbeaten Middle American Conference champ Toledo (13th), Houston (14th) and Notre Dame (15th).

The top 20 was completed by Pacific Eight champion Stanford (16th), Iowa State (17th), Atlantic Coast Conference champion North Carolina (18th), Florida State (19th) and Arkansas and Mississippi which tied for 20th.

UPI's national champion, in cooperation with a decision of the American Football Coaches Association, is selected on regular season performance only and does not include post-season activity. This decision was affirmed by the Association's Board of Trustees at the Association convention at Houston, Tex. last January. Bill Murray of Duke, the association's executive director, stated again today, "this is the way the coaches want it."

Nebraska, which combined the slick passing of quarterback Jerry Tagge with a devastating ground game led by running backs Jeff Kinney and All America Johnny Rodgers, averaged over 39 points per game and out-scored its opponents 469-64.

The Cornhusker defense, which only three times yielded more than one touchdown, was anchored by defensive tackles Rich Glover and All America Larry Jacobson and All America end Willie Harper.

Only Oklahoma was able to test Nebraska as head coach Bob Devaney led the Cornhuskers to their first national title. The Sooners matched Nebraska touchdown for touchdown in the crucial Big Eight showdown at Norman, Okla., but in the end, it was the Cornhusker defense which throttled a final Oklahoma drive.

Oklahoma will now meet Auburn in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day while Michigan goes to the Rose Bowl against Stanford and Georgia takes on North Carolina in the Gator Bowl. Arizona State is the host team in the Fiesta Bowl against Florida State, Tennessee goes against Arkansas in the Liberty Bowl and LSU will oppose Iowa State in the Sun Bowl.

Dawson and Taylor—Monday Heroes

END OF THE LINE — Kansas City's Ed Podolak is brought down by 49ers' LB Frank Nunley (L) and Skip Vanderbund (hidden) after completing pass from Len Dawson in first period. It was good for first down. (UPI)

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Len Dawson and Otis Taylor have upstaged the guys in the television booth again on the National Football League's Monday night television series.

The Kansas City Chiefs' passing combination pulled out all the stops in a 26-17 victory over the San Francisco 49ers in their latest prime time show.

With a victory over the Oakland Raiders next Sunday, Coach Hank Stram's Chiefs' would clinch a division title and an invitation to the playoffs, which they missed last year when they were defending Super Bowl champion.

"It was very important for us to be on the attack and to stay on the attack. Our pass blocking was terrific," said Stram after Monday night's game which dealt a double blow to pro football fans in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Nothing seems to sharpen the Chiefs' passing attack like the Monday night time slot.

Dawson completed 16 of 29 passes for 263 yards against the 49ers. One of the passes went to Taylor for 46 yards and a touchdown, and the big wide receiver scored another touchdown on a 25-yard run off an end-around play.

Earlier this year, the Chiefs beat Pittsburgh 38-16 on a Monday night as Dawson threw for 290 yards and three touchdowns, including two to Taylor.

Last year Dawson fired four scoring passes in a 44-24 Monday night rout of Baltimore.

Some of the fans who came early to Candlestick Park to beat the rush hour traffic, hung out signs greeting the American Broadcasting Company's announcing team. One said, "Howard Cosell, Superstar."

But Dawson and Taylor stole the show.

"I thought we played a good game," said 49ers quarterback John Brodie. "We didn't play poorly. They're just a good team . . . as good as any team we've played."

Brodie passed for 229 yards and threw a 25-yard touchdown pass to Ted Kwalick. But he only threw the only interception of the night, which led to one of Jan Stenerud's four field goals for the Chiefs.

Kansas City, now 8-3-1, moved ahead of Oakland, 7-3-2, in the American Football Conference West after sharing the lead for about 30 hours with the Raiders. The Chiefs are alone on top now for the first time this year.

The 49ers, 7-5, fell behind Los Angeles, 7-4-1. There are two weeks left in the season and they don't get another crack at the Rams.

"It's not over," said Coach Dick Nolan, whose team was one of the preseason favorites for a 1972 Super Bowl berth after surprising the NFL with a 10-3-1 record last season.

The young San Francisco team will have to beat another NFC West contender, the Atlanta Falcons who stand 6-5-1, and then hope that Washington can upset the Rams in the last Monday night game of the NFL season.

"The biggest disappointment was the amount of time we gave Dawson to throw, particularly in the first half," Nolan said after his team lost its first regular season game to an AFC club.

Dawson rolled up 198 yards passing in the first half. The touchdown pass to Taylor, on a first down play, came in the second period when the Chiefs totaled 16 points.

The touchdown to Taylor put the Chiefs ahead to stay, 10-3. Defender Johnny Fuller, who might have stopped the play from going all the way, slipped and fell as he made a move toward Taylor and the ball.

The 49ers' secondary ran into more bad luck in the last period, on a 30-yard pass play that set up Stenerud's final field goal after a Vic Washington touchdown for the 49ers made the score 23-17.

Dawson aimed down the middle for Taylor and overthrew him. But a San Francisco player deflected the ball into the hands of Chief rookie Elmo Wright downfield for the big gain.

Stenerud, whose longest field goal of the night was from 54 yards out, kicked an eight-yarder to give the Chiefs their final three points midway in the last quarter.

Nebraska Leads AP

(By Associated Press)

Nebraska Cornhuskers finished in the top spot in the Associated Press final poll of the 1971 regular college football season announced Monday. But Alabama, 11-0, came in second and the Crimson Tide has a chance to take over the No. 1 spot New Year's Night when they battle Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

The Huskers, defending national champions who routed Hawaii 45-3 Saturday, finished 12-0 and received 48 first place votes and 1,086 points, just 14 short of a perfect score from the panel of 55 sportswriters and broadcasters participating in the poll.

Alabama (11-0) got four first place votes and fourth-ranked Michigan got the remaining three. Auburn and Georgia rounded out the top five.

A final poll which will decide the national championship will be taken following the bowl games.

Nick Plays Less, Earns ($244,490) More

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—With almost a quarter of a million dollars collected from golf sponsors this year for a new record, happy Jack Nicklaus had a tongue buried in his cheek.

"That's not a bad year, you know," said the Golden Bear, who collected $30,000 Mickey Mouse Monday. "You can quote me as saying 'I'm playing less and enjoying it more.'"

Nicklaus, a man accustomed to seeing record but who still enjoys it, finished the $150,000 Walt Disney World Open golf tournament with a four-round total of 273, 15 under par and three strokes better than second-place finisher Deane Beman.

But Beman wasn't the man Nicklaus was trying to beat as he made his final tour of Disney's 6,924-yard Magnolia Course with a 68. He was out to get Lee Trevino, the merry Mexican who had been sitting at the top of the money-won list going into the Disney tournament with a total of $229,552.

Nicklaus came out with a total of $244,490, counting some he picked up in the pro-am round, and Trevino, who finished in a pack 10 strokes behind Nicklaus, left Fantasyland with a total of $231,224.

And Arnold Palmer, golf's all-time money-winner, had to settle for third place in the money derby with $209,603.

None of golf's big three has ever earned more in a single season and all three plan to skip the tour finale, the $130,000 Bahamas National Open in Freeport this weekend.

Nicklaus admitted the new money record will fall sooner or later. "But it's going to take some playing to do it," he said.

And he was quick to point out that he played in only 18 tournaments this tour while Trevino set himself a gruelling schedule of 32 contests.

Trevino, who was 70-73-70-70—283 on the Disney course, complained early in the tournament he was "mentally worn out" and needed a rest.

When Trevino overtook Nicklaus as the season's top money-winner earlier in the tour, Nicklaus said, "I felt like I would like to be the one that holds it at the end of the year."

Palmer, who was 71-66-7-70—278 for the tournament, finished five strokes behind Nicklaus in third place, along with rookie Lanny Wadkins, a former U. S. amateur champion.

Baruch Clips Hawks, 92-77

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz State's financially harassed basketball Hawks looked like they had something cooking for 20 minutes against Baruch College of New York here Monday night. Then they reverted to old habits and wound up on the short end of a 92-77 score.

It was the third consecutive loss for Coach Sy Pesavento's squad which has surrendered 331 points while scoring 175.

With Glen Hudson setting the pace, New Paltz ground a 49-43 first half lead, but the New Yorkers abandoned their man-to-man defense and moved into a zone press. It was all downhill for the Hawks after that, as Baruch began hitting the open man with regularity.

Warren Wilkerson was Baruch's high scorer with 26 points, but it was Mort Stein, the opposing center, who did the heaviest damage in the second half. He finished with 17 points and pulled down 14 rebounds.

Hudson was 9 for 18 from the field with four free throws to pace the Hawks with 22 points. Don Valdez picked off 14 rebounds and added 14 points, while Monroe Jones hit 15.

The Hawks make their fourth straight bid for a victory in the infant season when they host the powerful Red Foxes of Marist College Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

The score:

To Tarheels, Rimol Is for Real

By United Press International

Andy Rimol hasn't gotten the publicity heaped on some of the nation's towering young Sophomores this season but he made believers out of the North Carolina Tarheels Monday night.

Rimol, a 6-foot-9 Soph, outduelled North Carolina's Robert McAdoo and scored 23 points as Princeton upset the second-ranked Tarheels 89-73. With little more than 10 minutes left to play, Rimol ignited a seven-point Princeton burst that helped the Tigers build a comfortable 13-point lead.

Ted Manakas added 21 points for Princeton and Brian Taylor had 16 for the Tigers, who hit on 57 per cent of their shots. McAdoo led the Tarheels with 20.

In other games involving top-ranked teams, fourth-ranked Ohio State cruised past Utah State 71-60, Kentucky (6) whipped Kansas State 71-64, Southwest Louisiana, fifth in the small college ratings, stunned 10th ranked Houston 97-88, Jacksonville (11) ripped Tennessee Tech 86-72, Arizona State (17) downed California-Santa Barbara 92-71, Indiana upset 18th-ranked Kansas 59-56, Villanova (19) beat Oregon 78-73 and West Virginia toppled No. 20 North Carolina State 87-75.

Luke Witte and Dan Gerhard scored 20 points each to spark Ohio State past Utah State and 5-10 soph Ron Lyons scored 19 of his game-high 21 points in the second half as Kentucky ran its record to 3-0 by beating Kansas State.

Dwight Lamar hit for 39 points as Southwestern Louisiana toppled Houston and Harold Fox scored 25 points to pace Jacksonville's triumph over Tennessee Tech. Bill Kennedy's 28-point effort helped unbeaten Arizona State defeat Cal-Santa Barbara and Steve Downing, who had 22 points, hit two free throws with three seconds left to spark Indiana over Kansas.

Tom Inglesby's 20 points helped Villanova down Oregon and spoil former Penn Coach Dick Harter's return to Philadelphia while Wil Robinson scored 31 points and led a second half rally that gave West Virginia its upset of North Carolina State.

Elsewhere, Notre Dame tripped Western Michigan 83-77, Rice beat the Citadel 73-69, Santa Clara defeated Stanford 79-68, Bradley downed Minnesota 74-67, Washington stopped Colorado 72-67, Wisconsin nipped Loyola of Louisiana 67-66 and Florida State clobbered Stetson 90-54.

KBA Taps Five For Hall of Fame

KINGSTON

Kingston Bowling Association has tapped five living members for induction into its Hall of Fame on Saturday, Jan. 29. Three are being selected for outstanding bowling skills and two for meritorious service to the sport of tenpins.

Heading the list of new inductees will be Thomas Carlino, one of two Kingston area bowlers to roll two ABC-sanctioned "300" games. The other is Chris Gallo, who is already in the Hall of Fame.

Also named for bowling skills were James Amendola and Clarence (Clary) Buddenhagen. Amendola, like Carlino, is a solid 195-200 average bowler with a string of 700 triples to his credit. Buddenhagen was a star in the old City League and a 190-average kegler through most of his career.

Both meritorius service nominees-Kenneth Van Etten and George (Stooge) Robinson were also good bowlers in their own right. Van Etten was a member of the early Kingston Bowling Association boards and served as secretary of many leagues. Robinson posted a lifetime average of around 185 and like Van Etten also served many years as a tenpin secretary.

"I think all five bowlers named certainly deserve Hall of Fame recognition," said KBA president Carlo Perry, who is a member of the Hall of Fame Board. "The five represent a nice blend of the past and present of Kingston bowling.

Participating in the Hall of Fame elections were: Perry, Clifton Quick, Charles Manfro, William Mohr, Addison Jones, Harold Broskie and Charles J. Tiano, chairman.

Tickets for the event may be purchased from any member of the KBA executive board.

Brewers Sign Two

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Pitcher Jim Lonborg and catcher Paul Ratliff signed their 1972 contracts, the Milwaukee Brewers announced Monday. Lonborg, who was obtained from the Boston Red Sox in a 10-player deal last month, was the 1967 Cy Young Award winner and posted a 10-7 record last year. Ratliff hit .165 in 44 games for the Brewers in 1971.

How a minus on your paycheck can be a plus in your future.

Sound confusing? It isn't, really. When you join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, an amount you designate will be set aside automatically from each paycheck. That's the "minus."

That amount will then be invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. That's where the "plus" comes in. Because you're automatically saving for your future, with one of the safest investments there are: U.S. Savings Bonds.

And, by deducting a little at a time from each paycheck, you don't feel the pinch financially. Before you know it, you'll have quite a tidy sum tucked away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Put a little "plus" in your future. Join the Payroll Savings Plan.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.
Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

KHS at Poughkeepsie; RVC Hosts Coleman

High School Cagers in Action

Kingston High cagers will attempt to get things together in Poughkeepsie tonight, and Coleman's Statesmen seek their second win of the young season in Stone Ridge, as the basketball season gets into high gear with seven games on tap on the high school scene.

Coach Mike Rienzo's charges, smarting from an 86-62 thrashing at the hands of Lourdes last Friday, have no place to go but up. Tony Adams is still missing, but Tom Turco has already proved his worth, and should Chuck Jackson manage to stay out of foul trouble, the Maroons might even things up with the DCSL.

"We still have pretty good spirit," said Rienzo. "I think we're up. The kids realize we made a lot of mistakes, and I don't think we'll make as many this time." Walt Houghtaling will be available for action tonight, and should add some spark to the Maroons who will face a team as inexperienced as themselves.

Pioneer coach Bob Stauderman types his squad as a "running team," but admits the lack of returning lettermen could hurt.

"We're young and inexperienced and ten of my players are up from the JV," he said.

Rondout's Ganders, a preseason loss to Saugerties behind them, will provide the opposition for Coleman. Chick Meehan's men are a team with many similarities to Wallkill. Coleman's first victim, and Statesman coach Bill DuBois feels, in this case at least, what was good for the goose will be good for the Ganders.

"We'll use the zone press again, and go pretty much the same way," said DuBois. "But Phil Palladino might not be able to start, and if so we'll have to make some adjustments."

The one big difference between Wallkill and Rondout, however, is named Bill Joyner, who will probably find at least two green shirts very close to him all night.

Monroe and company are on the warpath again, and that bodes ill for the rest of the UCAL. This time the uniforms are different and the ball is round, but the power is still there and New Paltz will put it to the test. The Big Blue were easy victors over Pine Bush last Friday, but the Hugies disposed of Ellenville just as deftly, and Pesavento, Keeping and Snyder won't make it easy for their guests.

Rich Koegel will lead the Sawyers against invading Catskill, as Saugerties seeks it second non-league win. Koegel poured in 28 points in the season opener against Rondout last week.

In UCAL inter-divisional matchups, 1-0 Marlboro journeys to Boiceville to meet as yet untried Onteora. The Indians are defending league champions, but only Dan Brown remains of that team. The Dukes, however, were not impressive in their opening win, and the battle should be close.

A pair of winless clubs go at it in Wallkill, as the Panther's Tim Countryman and Larry Prisco will try to hold down Ellenville's Anthony Ware. Ware clicked for 18 against a strong Highland team in a losing effort and will be the hosts' major problem.

Red Hook, stopped by a strong Liberty team last week, still managed to score 75 points against the Indians, and that type of shooting should carry the Raiders past Pine Bush. The Bushmen will host the event and strive to keep their record from sinking to 0-2.

Anneliese Kime Raps 575

SAUGERTIES

A 575 effort by Anneliese Kime paced the Sawyer Women's action, and Steven's Liquorettes led the team catagories with a game high 780 and a 2218 triple.

Anneliese's score, on lines of 201 and 205, put her out of reach of closest competitor Donna Godwin who rolled 208-516. Shirley Benham notched the third 500 of the night, decking 508 for third place.

Kathy North downed 470 and Camilla Tompkins was next at 466. Mia Stevens and Cora Hackett, tied for the final spot, each tallied a 462 series.

Big Bob's 197 Leads

KINGSTON

As the Invitational Classic turns the one-third mark in the season, Bob Shelightner emerges at the top of the heap, sporting a 197.24 average through 33 games. More than half of Bob's games have been 200-plus efforts, as he also leads the league in that catagory with 18.

Chet Herringshaw five pins back at 192.2, and Mike Cashara close behind with 191.17, hold down the second and third positions. The fourth place bowler, Don Van Keuren at 191.15, is the owner of five 600 series, pacing the league in that department.

Herb Petersen maintains a 189.5 standard through 27 games. Jerry Woodvine has a 189.31 mark for 33 games. Rounding out the top group are Jim Amendola, 24 games, 188.3; Fred McFee, 30 games, 188.15; and Bob T. Smith, 33 games, 187.29. Smith also has a 269 single to his credit.

Jack Ferraro, breezing along at a 204.7 clip, has competed in only 17 games and is ineligible for the standings. Jack's 279 single, however, is the league's finest and the third best in the area so far this year. The league series standard, a 695, was rolled by Don Van Keuren.

In the team competition, the Capri 400 quintet copped double honors wth 1066 and 2983.

Sullivan KO's UCCC

KIAMESHA LAKE

Underdog Sullivan Community snapped Ulster County Community's four-game winning streak, edging the visitors, 4-3, and virtually knocking them out of the Mid-Hudson Conference Bowling League race.

"We just had too many splits in the first and third games," said Coach Al DiBernardo of UCCC. He counted 14 in the first set and nine in the third. UCCC lost the match despite a 2540-2464 advantage in pinnage, which gave them a point.

A 117 effort by Terry Decker in the first game also hurt UCCC. The Senators' best triple was Frank Saccoman's 539. Marc Lyons led Sullivan with a meagre 519.

Raiders, Allen Lines Share Saugerties Lead

SAUGERTIES

Raiders crushed Mahogany Ridge, 100-39, the widest margin in Saugerties AA Basketball League history, and Allen Bus Line squeezed past Foster's Coach House, 67-65, to share the league lead with 2-0 records.

In the other game, The Irish rallied in the fourth quarter to nip Naccarato Insurance, 60 to 58.

Mahogany Ridge was outclassed from the beginning, falling behind 52-17 at the half, as six of the Raiders scored in double figures. Larry Marcus, the Saugerties High School coach, led with 19 points and picked off 13 rebounds. Warren Gritmon and Jerry Hawkins potted 18 each. Jon McRae accounted for 21 of the 38 Ridge points. Both the 39-point total and 61-point margin of victory set new SAA records.

Allen's trailed Coach House by nine points in the early going, moved past them 51-46 at the three-quarter mark, then hung on for dear life as a Foster shot rimmed the hoop at the buzzer.

Don Komosa led Allen's with 19 points and Frank Allen added 17. Games honors went to Ron Miller of Foster's with 25 points. Dave Kane hit 17. Komosa snatched 12 rebounds for the winners.

Captain John Kelly's 10-foot jump shot with three seconds remaining gave the Irish their come-from behind victory over Naccarato's, after trailing 49-44, at the three-quarter mark. Kelly's heroic shot atoned for some miserable play and all was forgiven him.

John Carnright collected six clutch points in the fourth-quarter rally, 16 overall, and grabbed off 13 rebounds. Craig Burkhardt led Naccarato's with 15.

Next Saturday's pairings send Irish against Raiders at 1 p.m.; Allen's vs., Ridge, 2:20; and Foster's vs. Naccarato's at 3:40 p.m.

Jardine Heads Blue-Gray Staff

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Wisconsin football coach John Jardine has been selected as head of the three-man staff for the North squad in the 34th Blue-Gray Football Classic, officials for the game said today.

North associate coaches for the Dec. 28, nationally televised game are Vince Gibson of Kansas State and Don Faurot, retired Missouri athletic director and head coach.

Already named to coach the Gray squad are Bill Peterson of Rice, Billy Murphy of Memphis State and Cecil 'Hootie" Ingram of Clemson. Rosters for the two squads have not yet been announced.

PETER WALSH and CAROL WALSH, W. T. GRANT CO. and UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Defendants.

SUMMONS and NOTICE
Index No. 71-1248

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer, or if the complaint is not served with this summons, to serve a notice of appearance on the plaintiff's attorneys within thirty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated: November 11, 1971.

TO THE DEFENDANT PETER WALSH:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. John L. Larkin, a justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, signed on the 9th day of November, 1971, at Kingston, New York, and filed on the 12th day of November, 1971, with the complaint in the office of the clerk of the County of Ulster, at the county court house, in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York.

The object of this action is an action for foreclosure of a mortgage on property described as follows:

"ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT OF LAND, situate on the northerly side of East Bridge Street in the Village of Saugerties, Ulster County, New York, which was conveyed by Jeremiah Russell and wife to William Morgan by Deed dated March 13, 1847, and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book of Deeds No. 73 at Page 351, and which lot is bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at the Southwest corner of the lot formerly of Stephen N. Shaffer, now Sinnot, and runs thence Westerly along the street about forty-one (41) feet to the corner-post the Southwest corner of the lot; thence Northerly along the fence, being the division fence with lands formerly of James A. James, about one hundred and ten (110) feet to the Canal; thence Easterly along the same about forty-one (41) feet to the Northwest corner of the lot formerly of Shaffer now of Sinnot and thence Southerly about one hundred and ten (110) feet along said Sinnot lot to East Bridge Street at the place of beginning.

Being the same premises as conveyed by George Mills and Sydney L. Mills to George Mills and Sydney L. Mills by deed dated the 4th day of December, 194?, and thereafter recorded in the Office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster on the 4th day of December 1947, in Liber 691 of Deeds at Page 27.

The aforementioned George Mills died on March 24, 1957, leaving him surviving as his only heir-at-law and next-of-kin, Sydney L. Mills. The aforementioned Sydney L. Mills died on September 26, 1967, a resident of Village and Town of Saugerties, County of Ulster and State of New York, leaving him surviving as his only heirs-at-law and next-of-kin, his son, SYDNEY G. MILLS, and his daughter, LAURETTA D. MILLS CHRISTIANA, the grantors herein. Letters of administration were issued to the aforesaid Sydney G. Mills and Lauretta D. Mills Christiana by the Surrogate of the County of Ulster on the 15th day of November, 1967. Order exempting the Estate of Sydney L. Mills from New York State Inheritance tax was filed in the Office of the Surrogate, County of Ulster, on the 4th day of December, 1967."

GE Awarded Contract For 'Copter Engines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Electric Co. was awarded a contract worth an estimated $50 million to develop engines for a new fleet of helicopters, the Army has announced.

Officials said Monday that negotiations would begin immediately for the contract, which is expected to be worth even more once production begins.

GE is to handle the work at its Lynn, Mass., plant.

The new helicopter, called Utility Tactical Transport Aircraft System, or UTTAS, is intended for use in the 1980s and beyond. It will replace the UH1 Huey helicopter, the workhorse of the Vietnam war.

The Army expects to ask several aerospace firms to submit proposals for developing the airframe for the chopper within the next few weeks.

The Army wants a fleet of 1,100 UTTAS choppers that would cost an estimated $1.5 billion to develop and build. The UTTAS will transport a combat-equipped infantry squad of 11 men plus a crew of three. The Huey now carries six or seven GIs.

The losing bidders for the engine contract were United Aircraft Corp.'s Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Division and Avco Corp.'s Lycoming Division.

Man Charged In Beating

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — A Watertown man has been jailed without bail on a charge of second-degree assault in the beating of a Boonville man during what police said was a fight.

Police said Monday that the Saturday night incident left another Boonville man dead.

Onieda County Dist. Atty. Richard D. Enders said Sunday that Thomas T. Flannery, 26, was charged in the beating of John Reider, 41, of Boonville in the driveway of a home Reider shared with Edward Boczulak, 51.

State Police said they found Boczulak dead after neighbors reported a scuffle outside the home south of Pixley Falls State Park. They said that Flannery was standing over Boczulak's body when officers arrived.

Oneida County Coroner Dr. Albert Raymond and Dr. Wayne Redline, a pathologist, said Boczulak died of a heart attack. But they said they found bruises on his body and they were withholding further ruling on the death until the police investigation is completed.

Zoo Keeper Injured by Two Gorillas

BUFFALO (AP) — Buffalo Zoo animal-keeper Emil H. Besser was listed in fair condition today at Sisters Hospital after being pinned against a cage by two gorillas during a feeding period Monday.

A hospital spokesman said Besser, 38, of suburban Cheektowaga, suffered multiple arm and hand injuries when the two animals reached outside the cage, grabbed his arms, pulled him against the bars and bit him.

Zoo officials said other keepers quickly came to Besser's rescue, scaring the gorillas and causing them to release their hold.

Buffalo Man On Probation

BUFFALO (AP) — A Buffalo man was placed on five years' probation Monday after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of criminally negligent homicide in the shooting death of a teen-aged girl.

Milton Thomas, 21, entered the plea after he was indicted by a grand jury in the death of Denise Williams, 17, on July 4, 1970.

Police said the girl was killed when a .25-caliber pistol being displayed by Thomas discharged, hitting her.

The sentence was imposed by Erie County Judge William G. Heffron.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Look at your abode and see where you can make improvements. Enter whatever work you have to do with enthusiasm. Strive for more harmony with co-workers. Relax with mate tonnight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Spend time on self-improvement and then visit charming individuals who can help you to attain your aims. Show loved one that you are most devoted. Avoid one who wants to quibble.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have to use more ingenuity at home if you are to get affairs there working more as you want them to be. Avoid discussing controversial subjects at home. Strive for more harmonny.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Go to places early where you can obtain information you need so that your affairs will work out more successfully. Contact those persons who can assist you to gain your aims.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Find a way to increase assets, even if it is saving money by economizing for the time being. Consult a banker who can be of help to you. A business expert also has good ideas.

VIRGO Aug. 22 to Sept 22) You are dynamic now and can make an excellent impression on others and gain their favor. Do some entertaining that others will appreciate. Show that you have real charm.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) An early start at embellishing yourself and also your home will bring fine results today. Doing something in a business way will put you ahead of others. Show much devotion to mate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Pals you have not seen in a long time are eager to see you. Make every effort to contact them early. Accept an invitation extended to you. Do not spend too much money. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov.. 22 to Dec. 21) Gain the favor of a bigwig now and you can advance more quickly since new doors of opportunity will be open. Show that you are a pillar of your community and gain happiness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Change your attitude and do something about making your allies feel more important and happy. You want to expand and can do so, provided you get the aid of an influential person.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you use your charm with officials you can get excellent results today. Take pains with mate so that you have more romatic rapport. Eliminate a bad habit you may have acquired.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Contact an associate with whom you have not been getting along too well lately and patch up your differences. Use tact with one who opposes you. Show that you have poise.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those fascinatinng young people who easily understands others and knows how to be courteous with everyone. Much can be accomplished during lifetime and with greater ease than is possible for others. A good chart for vocations where attention to details is important. Give a good education and teach to persevere early.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Lt. Col. John Stapp, riding in a rocket sled running on rails, decelerated from 632 m.p.h. in 1½ seconds during a test in 1954. The World Almanac notes that he survived the tremendous deceleration force, but suffered temporary eye damage. Stapp's deceleration tests were valuable in determining the gravitational forces astronauts could endure.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

RIDICULE: (comment) This is not a question. It is to tell boys who call unattractive girls "dogs" to their faces or who call them "ugly" to their faces what I think about them. I think they are immature. They are also cruel. They should grow up. Until they do they should keep their mouths shut! —Hurt in Pennsylvania.

(A.) People who criticize others in public usually have a deep problem themselves. People with deep problems are often hard to change.

Girls used to handle boys like this by ignoring them completely. Some still do, and it is a good way. Another way is to say quietly but sincerely:

"People who criticize others usually have problems themselves."

Now, a personal note: Do not let ugly people teach you their tricks. I have cut one word out of your letter. It is an ugly word. And although your face is not beautiful you can make yourself very attractive by picking out your good points and working to make them better. Try it.

BEHIND IN SCHOOL: (Q.) Tim is older than I am. He should be in the eighth grade but is only in the fifth. I am in the seventh. People tell me I should go out with a smart boy and not with Tim. I like Tim. What do you think I should do? — Undecided in Alabama.

(A.) You would definitely have more in common with some boy of Tim's age but in the seventh or eighth grade. You could probably learn to like such a boy, too.

'Polopoly'...Play on Words

NEW YORK (AP) — The public broadcasting stations came along with their own magazine-format news show, "Polopoly," Monday night. It was too little, too imitative, too ambitious and too late.

It did not help the general ambiance of the 90-minute program to know that the two co-hosts, Sander Vanocur and Robert MacNeil, were receiving annual salaries, respectively, of $85,000 and $65,000 in a sector of broadcasting which has always pleaded that it would be able to do better if it had the kinds of budgets available to commercial broadcasters.

"Polopoly" is a play on words—based on the parlor game of "Monopoly"—and an effort to translate presidential politics and potentials into a kind of game.

The idea was to have Vanocur and MacNeil "Examine the political mood of the nation 11 months before the election." They went into a prison and permitted an embezzler to expound on the evils of ghettos. A woman who had recently been mugged explained that she thought law and order was important. The executive of a Nashville recording company complained about high taxes. A salesman fretted about taxes—it was all very pat and predictable.

The program worked over familiar ground from gun control laws to Phase 2, fluttering like a butterfly among assorted subjects without every really lighting on any.

Chief Ironside rescued Dean Martin from serious injury by the Nielson popularity chart. NBC put "Ironside" back in its Thursday night schedule on Thanksgiving. Immediate result was that "The Dean Martin Show" which followed jumped in the rating from a 29 per cent share of the viewing audience to 45 per cent.

The shift didn't hurt "Ironside," either. It shot from a 38 per cent share to 46—and landed in the top 10 shows.

Star performer of this season so far is CBS's "All in the Family," which in the ratings report for the week ending Nov. 28 was tuned in by 60 per cent of the sets in use at the time. That is the kind of attention usually given only to Bob Hope's Christmas show and the "Miss America's pageant finals CBS's made-for-TV feature, "A Death of Innocence," and "Gunsmoke" were in second and third place for the week.

The ABC network has moved ahead of any regulations to reduce by one-third the amount of "nonprogram material" permitted the weekend blocks of children's shows.

"Nonprogram material" means commercials, and ABC President James E. Duffy said a proposal will be submitted to Board to limit commercial time to 11 minutes per hour. The code now permits 16 minutes of advertising per hour outside of prime time.

Bridge

Defense Surely Gaines

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Joel Gaines, the inventor of Bridgette, the two-handed bridge game that is achieving great popularity, is also a very good player of bridge itself.

Here we see Joel sitting East with his brother Jud sitting West.

We hold no brief for South's bidding. The four-spade contract is not unreasonable and would make against ordinary defense.

Jud opened the queen of clubs and Joel won the trick with his ace. There was no trouble about Analyzing the lead, but a Review of the bidding was most instructive. South probably held exactly three diamonds. In that case Jud, sitting West, would hold a doubleton. If he also held a trump trick something nice might develop for the defense.

Could Jud hold a singleton diamond? Possibly, but not probably. He might well have opened a singleton.

How could Joel beat the contract? If West held exactly two diamonds and three trumps to the ace or king.

After all this thought it was easy for Joel to lead a low diamond. South went up with his king and led trumps, but it didn't matter whether Jud won the first or second lead of the suit. He was able to lead his other diamond to Joel's ace and set the contract by ruffing the third lead of the suit.

Powell Is Confirmed...Rehnquist Faces Tough Sledding

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With President Nixon's third appointment to the Supreme Court — Lewis F. Powell Jr. — easily confirmed, administration forces in the Senate turned today to a tougher battle on William H. Rehnquist.

Only one vote was cast against Powell's confirmation late Monday afternoon — that by Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla.

"I think he doesn't have the deep, deep feeling for little people I'd like to see. I think he's mostly for the elite, the rich, the comfortable, the approved, those who look good in country club drawing rooms," Harris said in explaining his vote.

Eighty-nine senators voted to confirm Powell, who said afterwards in Richmond, Va., that "the near unanimity of support frightens me a little. I am too conscious of my own limitations to take it at face value. I am afraid I cannot live up to such high expectations."

Powell will succeed the late Justice Hugo Black. A widely acclaimed lawyer, Powell is a former president of the American Bar Association.

Confirmation of Rehnquist, nominated to succeed Justice John M. Harlan, promised to be a far different thing. A split judiciary committee recommended his confirmation on a 12 to 4 vote.

Opponents, led by Sen. Birch D. Bayh, D-Ind., said Rehnquist had an anti-civil rights record as a practicing attorney in Phoenix, Ariz. They also said that since becoming an assistant attorney general in the administration, he had had a record of being against civil liberties.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said Monday that such charges represented "desperate and irresponsible efforts on the part of so-called liberals in the news media and the academic community . . ." He added they were "horrified" that the Supreme Court "might not be dominated by liberals in perpetuity."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield made the Rehnquist nomination the business of the Senate immediately after Powell was confirmed. He said earlier he hoped the Senate could vote on Rehnquist by Wednesday.

A perhaps more realistic timetable, however, was offered by Bayh. He told UPI it would take him longer than that to lay out his case against the nominee. It appeared it would be at least Friday, and possibly next week, before a vote will be taken.

Sen. Hugh Scott, the Republican floor leader, predicted Rehnquist would receive more than 73 votes for confirmation. An informal UPI count, however showed a maximum of 65 votes as of today, with 23 votes against Rehnquist. There were 10 senators on which no reading could be made, and there will be at least two absentees.

SAD OCCASION — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson, wipes a tear from his eye during funeral services at St. Margaret's Church in Dorchester, Mass., for retired House Speaker John McCormack's wife, Harriet. Mrs. Pat Nixon and Johnson's daughter, Luci, (R). (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Nixon, Trudeau Discuss Removal of Import Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau of Canada asked President Nixon for the removal of the 10 per cent import surcharge because it is "hurting us" and the United States said it would be taken off as soon as possible, Canadian officials said today.

They said "it was not in the United States position to keep it on for a length of time." The question of the surcharge came up during two meetings with Nixon Monday — one shortly after Trudeau arrived and the other during a working dinner at the White House.

The first session was described by Canadian officials as a two-hour, 20-minute "cordial and good humored" discussion which, however, did not reach an agreement on U.S.-Canadian bilateral problems.

"I gather that today's talks were successful," said one Canadian official. "No agreement was reached, but the feeling is that if pursued further on an official level, it could be reached." He said that there were several problems to be worked out, without going into specifics.

Regarding the issue of the surcharge, Ottawa officials said Canada called for it being "remanded as soon as possible because it is hurting us."

Trudeau, according to Canadian officials, told Nixon that he wanted the surcharge to "get out in a hurry" as it affects "Canada and other countries."

The two officials also discussed the international situation, including the conflict between India and Pakistan, the Middle East and Nixon's forthcoming trip to China.

After their first meeting at the White House, Trudeau went to a local hotel to change into formal attire and then returned to the Executive Mansion for a black-tie working dinner where he discussed more Canadian-U.S. problems with Nixon.

Canadian officials said that both Trudeau and Nixon were satisfied to tie up all differences regarding the U.S.-Canadian problems "although no specific questions were touched upon." They said the Canadian prime minister mentioned some political difficulties that could not be immediately resolved.

At the time of the Trudeau-Nixon meeting, another set of talks was held in the White House at the ministerial level between Canadian Trade Minister Jean-Luc Pepin, Finance Minister Edgar J. Benson and their counterparts —Treasury Secretary John B. Connally and Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans.

Phnom Penh Airport Bombed

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—North Vietnamese troops bombarded Phnom Penh and its airport today in attacks that killed two Cambodian soldiers and injured six other persons. It was the first shelling of the city since the war broke in Cambodia 20 months ago.

Three 122mm rockets hit the city and eight more of the six-foot missiles struck Pochentong International Airport. Two other rockets landed harmlessly on a soccer field.

Two women and two children were reported injured in the rocket attack on the city and two soldiers were killed and two wounded in the airport bombardment.

The women and children were injured when a rocket destroyed a small house.

Although it was the first rocket attack against the Cambodian capital, the Viet Cong attacked Pochentong Airport in January, again on Nov. 10, and several times since then. The attack nearly a year ago destroyed 75 per cent of Cambodia's small air force. No significant damage was reported in today's attack.

Many Phnom Penh residents believe the guerrillas have not shelled the capital because they did not want to risk killing Queen Sisowath Kossomak, mother of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the former chief of state now living in exile in Peking.

In today's attack, the shells landed on the opposite side of the city from the queen's villa.

In Saigon, the military command said South Vietnamese paratroopers and Rangers fought North Vietnamese regulars in eastern Cambodia and the Central Highlands of South Vietnam Monday but little other action was reported inside South Vietnam.

Soviet Device Lands on Mars

MOSCOW (AP) — A capsule from the Soviet Union's Mars 3 space probe made a soft landing on Mars and transmitted data back via the mother ship to earth, the Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

The announcement was the first word that Mars 3 had reached its target. Another Soviet space traveler, Mars 2, reached Mars on Nov. 27, fired down a capsule containing the Soviet flag, and then went into orbit to photograph the planet.

The Tass anouncement did not give the date of Mars 3's arrival or when it fired down its capsule, but it said signals from it were transmitted back to earth from Dec. 2 to Dec. 5th.

The Tass announcement said: "The descent craft of the Soviet station Mars 3 softlanded on the surface of the planet Mars.

"The descent craft has parachuted down and landed softly in the southern hemisphere of Mars in an area 45 degrees latitude South and 158 degrees longitude West.

"Signals from the craft which landed were received and recorded on board the artificial satellite Mars 3 and later, at communication sessions, from Dec. 2nd to 5th, transmitted to the earth."

My Best Christmas

"Children all snuggled and tucked in their beds, while visions of sugarplums danced in their heads!" When I hear this, I reminisce of all my previous Christmases. Christmas has always held a special meaning in my life, however, it was as a child that I captured the real joy of Christmas!

The excitement began with my mom and sis placing the decorations all over the house. Sis and I constructed a Christmas Card Tree, and painted scenes of Santa, The Nativity and wreaths on all the windows. When mom baked cookies and fruitcakes, I would always sneak the spoon and the bowl, in which they were made.

I had accompanied my dad to purchase our spruce tree. I remember grinning with satisfaction, as I walked into our home with this gigantic beauty!

Wrapping packages was really fun, but it was frustrating! Why weren't my packages as large and pretty as everyone elses? Mom said they were beautiful since they were wrapped with love, and 'big things come in little packages!'

Christmas Eve was the longest day of my life! Since I was listless, mom gave me permission to view a movie with a girlfirend. This served a dual role: Passing the time, and enjoying the show!

Our Christmas tree, when decorated, was a beautiful sight. I felt proud that I had partaken in its elaborate dressing of garland, ornaments, and popcorn!

I woke up approximately three o'clock on Christmas morning exclaiming, "Hey everybody, wake up! Santas' been here! I managed to awaken everyone by five o'clock with constant persistance and enthusiasm.

Since I was the youngest, I received the majority of the presents. However, I felt great satisfaction when everyone appreciated my gifts. This was my best Christmas, since I realized that the true meaning of Christmas is in giving!

Laugh-In

Laugh-In in French and German will be a Christmas feature at MJM this season. The language classes at Myron J. Michael Junior High School will present the Rowan and Martin take off as their holiday program. In rehearsal are (L-R) Marshall Courtney, John Leavey, Allen Rowe and Kevin Mayes. Marshall and John in the first skit act out Santa's holdup by a gangster while in the second skit Allen Rowe plays Santa Claus getting gassed up for the midnight ride with Kevin Mayes as station attendant. Four skits will be presented in French and German with an English language narrator to clarify the action for the audience. Other MJM Christmas offerings include Ten Penny Tragedy, a comedy and a concert to be presented at the Dec. 13 meeting of the Parent Teacher Student Association. The MJM chorus will present a musical version of the popular Christmas poem Twas the Night Before Christmas and other holiday favorites. The play, Ten Penny Tragedy, will be presented by a cast of 12 under the direction of Wendell Scherer and Tim McClearen, moderators for the Drama Club. A select group of students from the general music classes will carol in the halls of the school

Rondout Valley Middle School Music

KYSERIKE

Rondout Valley Middle School Chorus groups will unite in seasonal song for a concert 7:30 p.m. Dec. 15 at the high school auditorium.

The eighth grade chorus under the direction of Martin Kelly and accompanied by Beth Hopkins are preparing favorites old and new for the presentation.

Three years ago as fifth graders, this group began to sing together. During this time much improvement has taken place, many choral numbers have been learned and many concerts sung. Two A ratings have been earned at the New York State School Music Association competitions. This is their final year in middle school.

The seventh grade choir under the direction of Harry Snyder will present a program featuring Hapiness from You're a Good Man Charlie Brown; Let There Be Peace on Earth and Sing.

The Symphonie of the Sixth, under the direction of John E. Ward, will perform and present Music-Mirror of the Arts, a historical tour of choral music. This group will feature not only songs and commentary but also a vocal double sextet singing, Hear the Song of the Shepherds Piping and a folk dance accompanied by the choir.

In May 1971, the choir participated in the New York State School Music Association Festival in Rhinebeck and achieved the highest rating "A" for elementary choir.

"UNDER 21"

CREDIT CLUB

JUST FOR YOU!

A BRAND NEW PLAN THAT ENABLES YOUNG PEOPLE UNDER 21 TO ENJOY THE PRIVILEGES OF

Your Own Credit Account!

Here's a wonderful new idea for you fellows and gals under 21 . . . your own personal CREDIT ACCOUNT! Now, all the credit you need, the same kind your parents enjoy, makes it easy to buy those special gifts for holidays, birthdays . . . or even for yourself. We want to take this opportunity to declare our trust in the dependability of you young people. We know no better way of expressing this faith than by establishing this plan JUST FOR YOU. Only people under 21 are allowed to join. When you come in be sure to ask for details about Standard's "Under 21" Credit Club.

"Young America" is old enough to join the armed forces, be married, vote in some states, drive an automobile, hold a job . . .

YOU'RE OLD ENOUGH TO ENJOY A PERSONAL CREDIT ACCOUNT WITH US!

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS!

Come into our store and sign an "UNDER 21" honor pledge. This will entitle you to SPECIAL CREDIT and allow you to choose and charge with your very own credit account. We'll help you arrange low CREDIT CLUB payments, according to your allowances or earnings. Your parents are not required to sign, nor are they responsible for your purchases.

It's So Easy!

NO CHARGE FOR CREDIT

Ever since 1901 when Standard started in business we offered "budget payments" as a service to our customers. TODAY Standard still saves you 12% to 18% Credit charges on ANY purchase. For Example: Buy Merchandise for cash price of $100. or Pay $10. Down leaving a deferred payment price of $90. Pay only $10. Monthly for 9 months. There is absolutely No Finance Charge and No Annual Percentage rate.

Why Pay 12%-15%-18% Interest & Carrying Charges

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

No matter what you buy at Standard you must be completely satisfied or your money back! That's another reason why Standard has become upstate New York's largest furniture organization.

GUARANTEED SAVINGS

Standard buys more . . . sells more . . . Thus buys for less and can sell for less. No matter what you buy at Standard we say you'll save money. But don't take our word for it . . . come see for yourself!

Compare . . . Then you be the Judge!

CONVENIENT SHOPPING
